Ulster Board Also Hears Talk of Rodents and Bugs at Dump, Objection to Trucks

Elimination of rodents and bugs from the Sterling street and Wilbur avenue dumps, objection to signs diverting truck traffic over the East Chester street by pass, and a request that the county attorney investigate the possibility of placing the New York State Thruway on the assessment rolls were among the matters discussed at a short meeting of the board of supervisors Thursday evening.

Dull Explosion Still Unexplained

A number of county residents are wondering if a plane crashed through the sound barrier over the area during the week. Several reports of a dull explosion and "puff of smoke" in the air, visible from the Ontario Trail area, have been received. State police at the Kingston station had heard the reports, but no formal complaint was made to them. There was some speculation that the dull explosion may have been caused by the breaking of the sound barrier.

At Stewart Field Air Force Base, the public information office said that a "sonic boom" something like a thundercap can be heard when a jet plane exceeds the speed of sound. No explanation could be given, however, for any "puff of smoke."

It was pointed out at the Air Force base that pilots from there normally do not "crash the sound barrier," and there have been no reports of this happening in the area recently. It was also stated that as far as is known no rockets have been released near here.

20 Trains Delayed

New York, July 16 (AP)—About 20 New York Central trains were delayed yesterday when a small fire halted a local on the railroad's Harlem Division in the Bronx. The fire under the lead car of a four-car train from Mount Vernon brought it to a stop. Electric power in the third rails of other tracks was turned off as a precaution as firemen clambered down into the railroad cut at East 179th street to fight the blaze. The train's 200 passengers took it calmly. Those in the front car walked into the cars far back. The train, minus its head car, proceeded into Grand Central Station an hour and 10 minutes late. Other trains were delayed from half an hour to 45 minutes.

Arrives in Strasbourg

Starsbourg, France, July 16 (AP)—Maurice Thorez, head of the French Communist party, arrived here by train today on his way to Moscow. With him were his wife, Communist Deputy Jeannette Vermeersch, three of their sons, Deputy Georges Cogniot and a doctor.

McCarthy Cancels His Probe Plan

Senator Acts in Reply to Leaders' Request — Faces Test With Flanders

Washington, July 16 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) today cancelled at the request of Senate Republican leaders his plans to open hearings in Boston Saturday on alleged Communist infiltration of defense plants. Sen. Knowland (Calif.) disclosed this in the Senate when Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) began a speech protesting McCarthy's plans. Knowland interrupted and announced that McCarthy "has agreed to cooperate." He told Flanders "it will not be necessary to object."

Minutes later, Francis P. Carr, the McCarthy subcommittee's staff director, announced cancellation of the scheduled Boston hearing. Carr said McCarthy had agreed, at Knowland's request, not to have any out of town sessions. He said McCarthy would have hearings here Monday and Tuesday to question some of the witnesses he had planned to interrogate in Boston, and that "ultimately we will have some hearings in Boston."

Had Called McCarthy Knowland said in the Senate that he had called McCarthy, told him that the Senate plans to be in session all day Saturday and that McCarthy "agreed to cooperate and said he would hold no meeting outside of Washington Saturday."

Flanders said he was protesting McCarthy's plans because "I doubt if the committee has jurisdiction." He said it was a matter involving private industry in (Continued on Page 15, Col. 4)

Says Practice Common

Washington, July 16 (AP)—A Richmond (Va.) builder who said he is a friend of Clyde L. Powell, ousted Federal Housing Administration official, told probing senators today it was a common practice for builders to give gifts to FHA employees.

Bertram Bonner of Richmond, New York and Florida said he would not call Powell an "intimate" friend but acknowledged under a barrage of questions that Powell had "dropped by and paid his respects . . . maybe once or twice," including once in Florida. He said he did not recall that Powell ever stayed overnight with him.

Supervisor Christopher Perry of the third ward asked that the board give attention to the need of Civil Defense volunteers. He said the need was great and the board should give some serious thought to the need and ask people to come forward and volunteer. He referred to the spotter and also to the Civil Defense police.

Clerk Snyder said Col. Hanstein, director of Civil Defense, had planned to appear before the board but had been unable to do so at this time. He said an opportunity to appear before the board would be granted at a later time.

Would Assess Thruway

Supervisor Joseph J. Turck of the fourth ward asked that the board assess the Thruway (Continued on Page 6, Col. 1)

General's Report Places Figure 1,000 Above Totals

Tokyo, July 16 (AP)—The Communists have an armada of 7,500 warplanes in the Far East, outnumbering U. S. combat planes 3 to 1, America's top air commander in the Pacific said today.

Yet if war were to break out "our first objective would be to gain control of the air," Gen. Earle E. Partridge, Far East Air Force commander, declared in an interview.

Partridge's estimate that Russia, China and North Korea have 7,500 combat ready planes is 1,000 planes higher than the top previous figure.

U. S. Air Strength U. S. air strength totals about 2,400 bombers, fighters, reconnaissance and transport planes, the general said.

"By refueling in the air our bombers are capable of striking at any Communist target in the Far East today," said the tall, slim veteran air commander.

Asked if that meant with atomic bombs, he replied:

"We would be delinquent in our duties if we were not prepared to use atomic weapons." Partridge said North Korea has "embarked on a program to increase its combat strength and overall capabilities," clearly showing the "vital importance" Russia and her satellites place on air power.

High Priority Given

"A high priority has been given to the rehabilitation of the fields in North Korea with the result that at least 13 airfields now are capable of supporting jet operations," the FEAF commander said.

He pointed out that bases in North Korea are within easy flying distance of Japan, recognized by both the Reds and Allies as the key to control of the Pacific. Russian planes are based just north of Japan on Sakhalin in the Kurile Islands, and in Siberia.

Partridge said the first job of his command in the event of war would be to knock out these bases and give U. S. planes control of the air.

And while the U. S. Air Force is outnumbered 3 to 1 in this area, Partridge pointed out that "we just flew three B-29s (jet bombers) here from California in 16 hours."

Meanwhile, FEAF is starting to train a new Japanese air force, but Partridge said it will be two years "before the Japanese pilot training program pays off . . ."

Supervised recreation followed by a refreshing dip in the cooling waters of the Esopus is the order of the day for a group of 20 to 30 youngsters participating in a community recreation program in Old Hurley.

In a program set up through the Hurley school board, Arthur Hansen, 32, a qualified physical education instructor, has been engaged for two hours a day for a six-week period to instruct boys of the district in such sports as baseball, basketball, touch football, track, and swimming.

The boys, ranging in age from six to 12 or 13, meet each morning at 9 on the school grounds. Here they receive more than

Dulles Has 2-Fold Plan For Asians

Undersecretary Smith to Leave for Geneva — President, Council Briefed

Washington, July 16 (AP)—Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith leaves for Geneva today to throw American prestige into the crucial drive to negotiate acceptable Indochina peace terms with the Communists.

The decision for Smith to return to Geneva was taken primarily because Secretary of State Dulles obtained in Paris two days ago assurances from Premier Pierre Mendes-France that the French government will not make a peace of surrender. Dulles returned with that word yesterday.

Pushes His Plans

Here in Washington, meanwhile, Dulles is pressing plans for a collective defense of southeast Asia which may serve (a) to secure non-Communist parts of Indochina from further Red aggression in event of a settlement or (b) to pave the way for possible quick intervention if the war continues.

Highly authoritative sources said Dulles told President Eisenhower and the National Security Council yesterday that Mendes-France assured him France's final terms for an Indochina settlement would be terms which the United States can live with.

Dulles arranged to discuss the results of his quick Paris mission with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee today (3 p. m. EDT), after Smith's scheduled takeoff for Geneva (1:30 p. m. EDT).

Results Are Approved

Informants said the President and National Security Council had approved the results of Dulles' mission. Administration leaders were reported convinced that misunderstandings had been eliminated among the United States, Britain and France.

Mendes-France was said to have given Dulles three assurances:

1. That the rock-bottom terms which France is willing to accept from the Reds are such that the United States can live with, although it may not like them. It is understood that in general these provide for making Laos and Cambodia, the two smaller Indochina states, independent under neutrality provisions and dividing Viet Nam into Communist and non-Communist zones with provision for eventually holding supervised free elections.

No Assistance Expected

2. That Mendes-France does not expect the United States to assist France in the negotiations to the extent of sacrificing basic principles against recognizing conquests. This means Mendes-France accepted Dulles' assertion that the United States will

EDWIN H. SCHMITZ

Election of Edwin H. Schmitz as executive vice president of Electrol Incorporated, manufacturer of aircraft and industrial hydraulic devices, this city, has been announced by B. N. Ashton, president. Schmitz was formerly general sales manager of the Standard-Knapp Division of Emhart Manufacturing Company, manufacturer of packaging machinery, Portland, Conn., and while with this firm also served as president of the Packaging Machinery Manufacturers' Institute. Prior to this latter association, Schmitz was treasurer and director of Union Fork and Hoe Company, manufacturer of agricultural hand tools, Columbus, Ohio. He was graduated from Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1923, receiving a degree in engineering administration.

County Is Normal Following Storm

Crops Damage Centered in Small Area With 30 Per Cent Loss

Southern Ulster county was about back to normal today as trees felled by Wednesday night's storm were removed, wires were repaired and power and telephone service restored.

Telephone and electric power repair crews worked throughout the Highland, New Paltz and Ellenville areas on Thursday. Service in all but a few individual cases was restored during the morning Thursday after interruptions lasting all night.

The storm hit about 9 p. m. Wednesday in all areas, apparently, as residents all date power interruptions from 9 or 9:15 p. m. In Ohioville, power remained off until 10 a. m. Thursday, residents reported. Homes, dependent in most cases upon electric pumps for water, were

Senate Committee Lauds U. S. Foreign Aid Program

Washington, July 16 (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee said today the U. S. foreign aid program has "paid off" in "greater total free-world strength."

In a report to the Senate urging approval of a $3,100,000,000 foreign aid program for the current year, the committee majority said the American-assisted military buildup in western Europe in the four years since the Communist attack in Korea has had this result:

Fear Held Nitro

Stores Might Go Up; 20 Are in Hospital

Chestertown, Md., July 16 (AP)—Blast after blast ripped through a fireworks plant on the west edge of Chestertown today for more than an hour and authorities ordered the town evacuated.

They feared the explosives might reach large stores of nitroglycerin and other explosives in magazines at the Kent Manufacturing Co.

It could not be determined immediately if any of the plant's 275 workers had been killed but one witness said it would be a miracle if there were no dead.

Twenty casualties were taken to Kent-Queen Annes Hospital. Hundreds of residents, including mothers pushing baby carriages, fled across the Chester river bridge to safety.

Big Explosion

There was one big explosion as late as 11:20 a. m., 50 minutes after the first blast.

Wallace H. Ford, county tax assessor, said he was the only one left in the courthouse by that time and the bridge across the river into the adjoining county was jammed with cars fleeing town.

Rescue workers concentrated their first efforts at clearing houses near the plant.

There can't help but be some fatalities," said Bill Usilton, Chestertown newspaperman who was a witness.

Death Toll 190 From Heat Wave

Cool Air Extends East From Kansas With Lower Readings

(By The Associated Press) The death toll from heat and storms rose to 190 today as cool northerly winds routed the season's severest heat wave in most parts of the country.

The cooler air extended from Kansas and Oklahoma eastward over Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky and Ohio to the north Atlantic coastal states. Daytime temperatures in that area yesterday were 10 to 25 degrees cooler than on the preceding day.

Temperatures in the 90s and 100s still covered most of the southern half of the nation, with Little Rock, Ark., recording 107, Fort Worth, Tex., and Springfield, Mo., reported 102.

But the temperature reached a high yesterday of only 92 in St. Louis, compared with 113 the preceding day. More than a week

Asks Truce Based Upon Line Slice

Communists Seek More of Viet Nam, Say Diplomats; Port Is Factor

Geneva, July 16 (AP)—French Premier Pierre Mendes-France raced the clock today in a quest to win an Indochina cease-fire based on division of Viet Nam at the 18th parallel. But his efforts were set back by a fruitless four-hour session with Russia's stubborn V. M. Molotov.

French sources said last night's meeting with the Soviet foreign minister resulted in a complete deadlock. Both statesmen stuck to their positions and no progress was achieved, the informants said.

The partitioning of disputed Viet Nam was said to have been the main topic of the parley which broke up early this morning.

Mendes-France was reported to have pressed for a cease-fire line running from Dong Hoi on the Vietnamese coast, westward to Thakhek, on the Laotian border.

Western diplomats said the Communists seemed willing to do business, but that they were dickering for a bigger chunk of Viet Nam — most important of the three associated Indochinese states.

Compromise Bright

The Reds appeared to be seeking a compromise between the 18th parallel across Viet Nam's narrow waist and their original demand for partition at the 14th latitude.

The French want to hold the line at least to the 17th Parallel. To set it below that point would mean handing over to the Communist-led Vietnam the important air and naval base at Tourane and the old Annamese capital of Hue. Loss of the latter particularly would be a severe blow to the prestige of ex-Emperor Bao Dai, chief of state for the government the French have set up in Viet Nam.

Mendes-France has hinted he might be persuaded to turn over North Viet Nam's capital, Hanoi, to Ho Chi Minh's forces. But the premier was reported holding out stubbornly to retain at least temporary control of Haiphong, the major port of the rich Red river delta through which the French may have to evacuate their forces.

In return for retaining Haiphong, 65 miles east of Hanoi and well above the 18th Parallel, the French have offered to let the Vietnamese keep control of some of their pockets in the south.

Neutralization Seen Likely

The French believe the Communists will agree eventually to a neutralization of the other two Indochinese states, Laos and Cambodia, based on withdrawal of Vietnamese forces and incorporation of local Communist resistance movements into "national communities."

The French and British hope to reach a large measure of agreement with the Communist on detailed terms of an armistice by the time U. S. Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith arrives tomorrow to sit in on the negotiations.

Sources in Washington said the United States does not appear to have budged from its disapproving attitude towards any partition of Viet Nam. But informants there said Mendes-France assured Secretary of State Dulles at their recent Paris huddle that France would only agree to an Indochina truce (Continued on Page 15, Col. 4)

Utica Driver Dies Of Heart Attack

Stanley Perry of 768 Lansing street, Utica, died at Kingston Hospital at 1:40 a. m. today shortly after he complained of feeling sick while in the Colonial Diner, 713 Broadway.

It was reported from the diner at 12:23 a. m. that a man there had complained of illness and had requested that a physician be called. Dr. Sidney Pauker, who attended Perry, said death was due to a heart attack.

Police said Perry had parked a large truck with the name Amsterdam Dispatch on the side of it on Broadway near Elmendorf street. The company was notified.

Rice Services Held

New York, July 16 (AP)—Greats of the sports world attended funeral services today for the man who told their story, Grantland Rice. About 400 present and former champions of the ring, the court and the ball field crowded the auditorium of Brick Presbyterian Church and the vestibule for the service for the sports writer who died of a heart attack Tuesday night at the age of 73. Leaders of the newspaper and publishing worlds also paid final respects to the columnist. In an eulogy to the "dean of the American sports writers" published in the New York Times, Rice had become America's "evangelist of fun." "He perhaps more than anyone else made the playing field respectable," Barton said.

B29 Lands After Peculiar Crash

Boston, July 16 (AP)—A B29 bomber made a safe landing at the Boston Airport today, despite damage to its left wing which may have been caused by an air collision with a jet.

The pilot, Lt. Glenn Hess, reported that he was flying over Cape Cod when his plane was damaged, but he said he was not certain that the damage was caused by a collision.

There was a crew of four on the B29.

Hess, who is attached to the Air Defense Command at Griffis Air Force Base, Rome, N. Y., said that he saw a fighter plane go over, and that a B29 bomber was about 1,000 feet above his plane when it was damaged.

His request for emergency landing procedures at the Boston Airport at first led to reports that a crash had occurred over Boston.

Military aircraft and a coast guard boat from Provincetown were sent out to search Cape Cod bay for any trace of the plane which may have collided with the bomber.

The deicer section on the leading edge of the bomber was damaged, as was the aileron in the left wing. A hole was broken through another part of the wing.

Rescue work was hampered by the continuing explosions.

Usilton said first reports from the scene indicated there might be many casualties on one of the larger buildings where women workers assemble fireworks and detonator fuses.

Calls for help went out to Easton, Elkhart and Dover, Del. Hospitals there were alerted.

Usilton said one report indicated small houses containing the more powerful explosives still hadn't gone up.

Whole bundles of fireworks were blasted into the air and then exploded.

Rescue work was hampered by the continuing explosions.

Usilton said the whole town was standing by tense and taut, waiting for the moment when the extent of the disaster could be gauged.

The local Civil Defense Organization went into immediate operation to help in the rescue work.

An hour after the explosions started 20 casualties had been brought to the hospital but there was no report of anyone dead.

The Chestertown telephone exchange would accept nothing but emergency calls by that time.

Search for Engineer Enters Seventh Day

The search for the body of an IBM engineer, 37, believed drowned when the cruiser Blackstone and a barge collided off the Esopus Meadows Light entered its seventh day today.

Ulster and Dutchess county sheriffs' departments have been dragging the river and searching banks on both sides, so far without success. Army engineers are assisting in the search and on Thursday it was reported special instruments located an object, about 12 feet high, on the bottom of the river.

Diving operations were begun today to find out whether the object might be the sunken Blackstone, but at noon John Kerr, Esopus Light keeper, said the diver had been unable to descend below 40 feet in depth because of the coldness of the water. The diver was equipped with a "lung," but was not wearing a full rubber suit. The river is about 70 feet deep in that place.

The choppy water of the Hudson today also hampered the continued search.

Missing and believed drowned is Robert Henn, 37, of Cedar Lane, Greenwich Park, Poughkeepsie. Other passengers on the cruiser including its owner, Clyde Roan of Highland, were taken to safety after the crash.

A coast guard inquiry into the cause of the accident is in progress.

Town Officials

bodied in the pending bill will make them even stronger.

Sen. Langer (R-N.D.) was the only one of the 15 committee members who did not sign the report; he arranged to file dissenting views later.

Langer served notice in a floor speech yesterday he would vote against the bill on the ground it involved "just another giveaway." He said he could see little difference between Eisenhower administration foreign policies and those of the Truman administration, which he frequently opposed.

The foreign aid bill now is before the Armed Services Committee whose chairman, Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass.) said he expected no money cuts although the group may have some technical amendments to propose.

Meanwhile, the Senate Appropriations Committee arranged a closed session (10 a. m. EST) to hear Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, and Gen. Alfred M. Griener, supreme allied commander in Europe, on foreign aid allotments.

The pending measure is simply an authorization bill; it will be followed with an appropriations bill carrying the actual cash for the fiscal year which started July 1.

The report said that Town of Marlborough has been given $900 and the Town of Wawarsing $1,000 to augment money they have provided for recreation.

Supervisor Fred Fowler of Marlborough said the town will spend $1,800 on swimming, baseball, basketball, tennis, art and handicraft work, social and square dancing, movies and field days at the central school, and athletic field. Jack Kroh is director of recreation.

Supervisor Lawrence D. Craft of Wawarsing indicated that the town will spend $4,900 for swimming instructions, youth center and arts and crafts at Kerhonkson school, Nanapanoch school, Ellenville school, recreations center, the veterans hall and Kerhonkson Youth Commission pool. Directors of recreation are Andrew Gray and Morris Kaufman.

Search for Engineer Enters Seventh Day

The search for the body of an IBM engineer, 37, believed drowned when the cruiser Blackstone and a barge collided off the Esopus Meadows Light entered its seventh day today.

Ulster and Dutchess county sheriffs' departments have been dragging the river and searching banks on both sides, so far without success. Army engineers are assisting in the search and on Thursday it was reported special instruments located an object, about 12 feet high, on the bottom of the river.

Diving operations were begun today to find out whether the object might be the sunken Blackstone, but at noon John Kerr, Esopus Light keeper, said the diver had been unable to descend below 40 feet in depth because of the coldness of the water. The diver was equipped with a "lung," but was not wearing a full rubber suit. The river is about 70 feet deep in that place.

The choppy water of the Hudson today also hampered the continued search.

Missing and believed drowned is Robert Henn, 37, of Cedar Lane, Greenwich Park, Poughkeepsie. Other passengers on the cruiser including its owner, Clyde Roan of Highland, were taken to safety after the crash.

A coast guard inquiry into the cause of the accident is in progress.

Senate Committee

bodied in the pending bill will make them even stronger.

Sen. Langer (R-N.D.) was the only one of the 15 committee members who did not sign the report; he arranged to file dissenting views later.

Langer served notice in a floor speech yesterday he would vote against the bill on the ground it involved "just another giveaway." He said he could see little difference between Eisenhower administration foreign policies and those of the Truman administration, which he frequently opposed.

The foreign aid bill now is before the Armed Services Committee whose chairman, Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass.) said he expected no money cuts although the group may have some technical amendments to propose.

Meanwhile, the Senate Appropriations Committee arranged a closed session (10 a. m. EST) to hear Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, and Gen. Alfred M. Griener, supreme allied commander in Europe, on foreign aid allotments.

The pending measure is simply an authorization bill; it will be followed with an appropriations bill carrying the actual cash for the fiscal year which started July 1.

BABSON on BUSINESS

Babson Park, Mass., July 15—Just recently the seventh annual conference of businessmen and educators was held on the campus of Babson Institute in Wellesley, Mass. The theme was "Education for Survival." It was a conference on business educational standards. Nine out of every ten business executives invited to participate in the conference declined invitations on the ground that the issues are too controversial!

Since the war, businessmen have made a number of sharp attacks on our schools, our teachers and to graduates. Yet, with but a few notable exceptions, businessmen and companies have not given education the kind of support it wants and needs. One well-known eastern superintendent of schools recently stated that every time he tries to approach a group of businessmen for some help on a problem, almost automatically they query in chorus, "All right, how much do you want?"

With their dollars businessmen are generous, but with their recommendations and their time they are miserly. They do not seem to understand the educator when he asks them to sit down to discuss problems or curriculum, problems of delinquency, or even part-time employment for students.

Full-page advertisements appear in newspapers urging us all to support the schools. One such full page which recently made its appearance was headlined this way, "The present of education is the future of your business." The copy went on to ask why businessmen "are so blind, when it comes to the needs of our educational system."

Are Businessmen Fair? This advertisement further discussed three shortages that need to be remedied: 1) the shortage of classroom space; 2) the shortage of financial reward to attract capable individuals into teaching; and 3) the shortage of top-caliber teachers. Bravo! Now what I want to know is: What kind of run-around will a worthy educational project get by this same advertiser when he is approached to speak on these issues at the grass-roots level.

If businessmen mean anything beyond a gesture by such advertising, then they will see to it that someone within the company is designated to handle educational-business relations.

Another Failure of Businessmen I can tell you about the apparent failure of a project for this summer involving educators and businessmen. Someone got the idea that businessmen might be better understood if teachers were given the opportunity to get work experience in various businesses, at various levels, during summer vacations. Such a program would indeed benefit a cooperating company; but it would also help supplement the earnings of the underpaid teacher.

The idea was started by a national trade association. Meetings were held with representatives of the schools, colleges, and businesses. Business again talked optimistically about how it wanted to support this program. But, when the chips were down, you could count on your fingers the number of such summer jobs that business offered in New England. Does business always really mean what it says?

Education Is Your Business I can tell you another story, with a happier ending. A very small company with about two dozen employees sent its sales manager, a young chap, to a high school fifty miles away to participate in a career-day program. The young sales manager felt that while the boss had let him off for the day to do a community job, he should also be productive for his company. Hence, he decided to make a few cold calls.

The purchasing agent of one large company he called on was so impressed by the community relations of this mere infant in business, as opposed to his own corporation's wretched record, that he gave the young sales manager a good deal of his time. One thing led to another and the sales manager returned from his educational jaunt with one of the largest orders his company had ever received for one of its products. What is happening in the schools today surely will affect the future of your business. What are you really doing to help the schools and colleges in your community?

In the bidding of today's hand, North was afraid that his opponents could make a game at hearts. He jumped to four spades to shut them out, and succeeded.

As the cards happened to lie, a contract of four hearts could not have been made. South was not, however, disappointed with his contract since he had an excellent chance to make the game at spades.

West opened the king of hearts and continued the suit, South ruffing. Declarer saw that his contract was safe if the king of diamonds happened to be on side. To guard against a loss of the diamond finesse, South cooked up a plan that gave him an additional chance.

After ruffing the heart, South led a trump to dummy and returned a club toward his hand. If East played low, as is "normal" in such a situation, South could play the queen to force out West's ace. West would lead another heart, and would ruff again.

South would then lead the jack of clubs to force out East's king. East could then lead a diamond, but South could put up the ace of diamonds and cash the ten of clubs to discard dummy's remaining diamond.

This plan could have worked, except that East was a little too clever for South. When the low club was led from dummy, East made the very fine play of putting up his king at once. This

This plan could have worked, except that East was a little too clever for South. When the low club was led from dummy, East made the very fine play of putting up his king at once. This held the trick, of course, and East speedily shifted to a diamond, thus assuring West a trick with the king of diamonds. When clubs were led again, West took the ace of clubs and cashed the king of diamonds to defeat the contract. East's unusual play of "second hand high" was not as dangerous as it looked. If South happened to be leading the club from dummy for a finesse, the king of clubs was worthless anyway. If South had anything else in mind, it could cost East nothing to play his king at once.

A GERMAN ARMY

France has an understandable fear of a re-armed Germany. Twice in a little more than twenty years the French saw their country invaded by the Germans, the flower of their youth killed in fighting the invaders. It is this memory that makes it difficult for France to ratify the European Defense Community which would make possible a European Army in which West German troops would participate. The French seem almost more willing to live with the possibility of Russian aggression in Europe than with the possibility of another war with Germany.

It is ironical that French shortsightedness may create the very thing it fears. Every military expert agrees that successful defense of Europe against Communist aggression depends upon German cooperation. If the European Army came into being German troops would participate but, in a sense, West Germany would still not have an independent military force. Britain and the United States are already considering ways to gain West German troops, possibly as part of the North Atlantic Treaty forces, if EDC does not materialize. Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who has repeatedly said that he does not want to see a national German army, warned recently that such an army may be the only alternative if France does not approve EDC.

It may be that French National Assembly will see the handwriting on the wall and act to ratify EDC before it is too late. Not much time remains for the Assembly is scheduled to adjourn in August. If ratification is not accomplished by that time other steps will be taken to grant West Germany sovereignty and to secure German troops for the stand against communism in Western Europe.

PEOPLE READ NEWSPAPERS

Karl Keyerleber, columnist for the Cleveland Plain Dealer, says it is true, he can prove it: people do read newspapers. He checks everything meticulously for a long time, he says, and hears nothing from his readers. He gets to thinking that there are no readers except his family and the proof-reader. Then he happens to guess that the all-night drug-store he is writing about is the "only one in Ohio north of Columbus"—which is about halfway down the state. And he finds out! Everybody reads his stuff and tells him he is wrong, by letter, postcard and telephone.

All newspapers have the same experience. People even read editorials. Newspaper people do their level best to be accurate. But accidents happen. The finger will slip on the typewriter keyboard and a million will turn out on the page as a billion. Who reads it? And, if they do who cares? Everybody.

Newspapers used to think that the high school boy and the retired farmer were the first to be heard from. But no longer. Everyone wants his paper to be right and knows it, and will say so in a minute, if he thinks for a minute it is wrong.

Probably this is a compliment. Accuracy, you see, is expected. It is the rare deviation from accuracy which stirs the interest and, sometimes the ire, of readers.

PARKING TROUBLES

One business in which the interests of the buyer and the seller are emphatically at odds, is automobile parking. The owner of a parking lot or a public garage wants to squeeze as many cars as possible into his space. If they are scratched, dented, marred by crumpled fenders or smashed headlights, that is just too bad, and unless the lot owner or garagekeeper is exceptional, he disclaims all responsibility.

The owner naturally sees it quite differently. He believes that city ordinances forbidding the storage of cars above the maximum capacity of the space should be enforced.

Why should it not be feasible to insist that adequate space for each car be marked

PROFESSIONAL WITNESSES

The attack on conscious and active anti-Communists continues in many forms. The attack is now concentrated against what is referred to as the informer. Of such, there must be thousands in the United States, men and women, who call attention to publications, circulars, movies, meetings, and all sorts of activities which they believe to be subversive. Some make sense; some are nonsense. Some represent good will and patriotism; some are nothing more than personal spite and hatred. It takes a very thorough knowledge of the Communist movement to be able to evaluate this material.

For instance, a publication is issued in Union, New Jersey, called "Common Sense," which regards itself as anti-Communist and is so accepted by many. It has some circulation and is offered for sale in bulk. I have before me an issue of that paper which is headed: "The Coming Red Dictatorship." The sub-head reads: "Asiatic Marxist Jews Control Entire World as Last World War Commences. . . ." There is more to this.

The first words of the article are: "You will be shot." Four streamers of photographs show a number of Americans who are Jews, including Bernard Baruch, who is described as "most influential man in the world." The last photograph on that line is David Dubinsky who has been more effective in the fight against world Communism than any 10 anti-Communists I know of.

Such a publication is not the way to fight Communism nor does it provide Americans with data to help them evaluate the Communist movement in the United States. This is anti-Semitism in its most direct form.

On the other hand, most of the authentic data on the nature and activities of the American Communist movement must come from former members and particularly officials of the Communist Party and from undercover men and women put into the party by the FBI and police agencies. The reason that this can be the only source is that there is no other.

Some who were not former Communists and undercover agents may have worked with material sufficiently to be able to evaluate the testimony they give. Again, among anti-Communists are doctrinaire persons who have a vested interest in their own theories. Again, there are some who while they are now anti-Communists remain Marxists; their hatred for Russia is fierce because they hold that the Russians abandoned Marx and have reverted to Bakunin. In any evaluation of their testimony, these criteria must be given due consideration.

I know those who are referred to as "professional witnesses." They are former Communists or undercover agents who are often called before Grand Juries, Congressional committees and court cases. They are sincere fighters against Communism and in spite of the fact that some of them accept a pay-diem fee, they serve at a sacrifice and receive less than they could earn at other work. Most of them earn less than their attackers do, and the attackers generally are inadequately informed about this movement which has succeeded in doing this country such damage.

If such witnesses as Louis Budenz, Elizabeth Bentley, Paul Crouch, and some others are frightened away from giving testimony, new witnesses may not step forward.

One of the major difficulties is that sometimes a witness, working constantly in the same material, will tell more than he has personally experienced because it is not easy to separate what one has experienced from what one has heard from another person. Little of this data includes eye-witness operations; the witness has heard something at a meeting, or he has read a report, or he has seen the minutes of a meeting. We are dealing with a conspiracy and conspirators do not make it easy to uncover themselves.

If the reader is interested in a fictionalized but, in my judgment, a thoroughly correct description of how this conspiracy works, he will find it in a serial recently published in "The Saturday Evening Post," entitled "The Darby Trial" by Dick Pearce. This story is correct in every detail. It will be seen here, as it is true everywhere, that within the movement there are many conspiracies and cover-ups.

The so-called "professional witness," for one reason or another, is serving this country and is not deserving of the calumny currently being heaped upon him by those who have never done the work necessary to know this field. (Copyright, 1954, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

GROUP PSYCHOTHERAPY

I have spoken several times about the group method of treating mental and emotional disorders. Although the group method is a comparatively recent development, as compared with the individual method which entails private consultations between patient and psychiatrist, it has made great strides forward. A survey has now been made of 500 papers written on the subject and makes it possible to summarize some of the main ideas of this method.

First, it is being used for all purposes, from the management of physical disease to the improvement of family relations. It is being used everywhere—in mental hospitals, prisons, out-patient clinics, child guidance, military retraining, in general hospitals and in private practice.

One of the most important requirements for any group method to succeed is that it must be democratic. The size of the group may vary from one psychiatrist to from 5 to 15 patients but the preferred ratio is one worker to 8 patients.

How does the group method seem to work? 1. There is a strong helpful effect from public "confession" or disclosure. There seems to be a healing effect in stating forbidden thoughts and guilty actions. This same effect is obtained in private treatment but is heightened when performed among a group, perhaps for the following reason.

2. Very often the remarks of one member will strike a sympathetic cord in other members of the group who may have the same forbidden thoughts and actions but felt they were alone in this feeling. Knowing that others feel and think the same way is vastly reassuring.

3. In the group method one member tends to help another, which is totally missing in the private method.

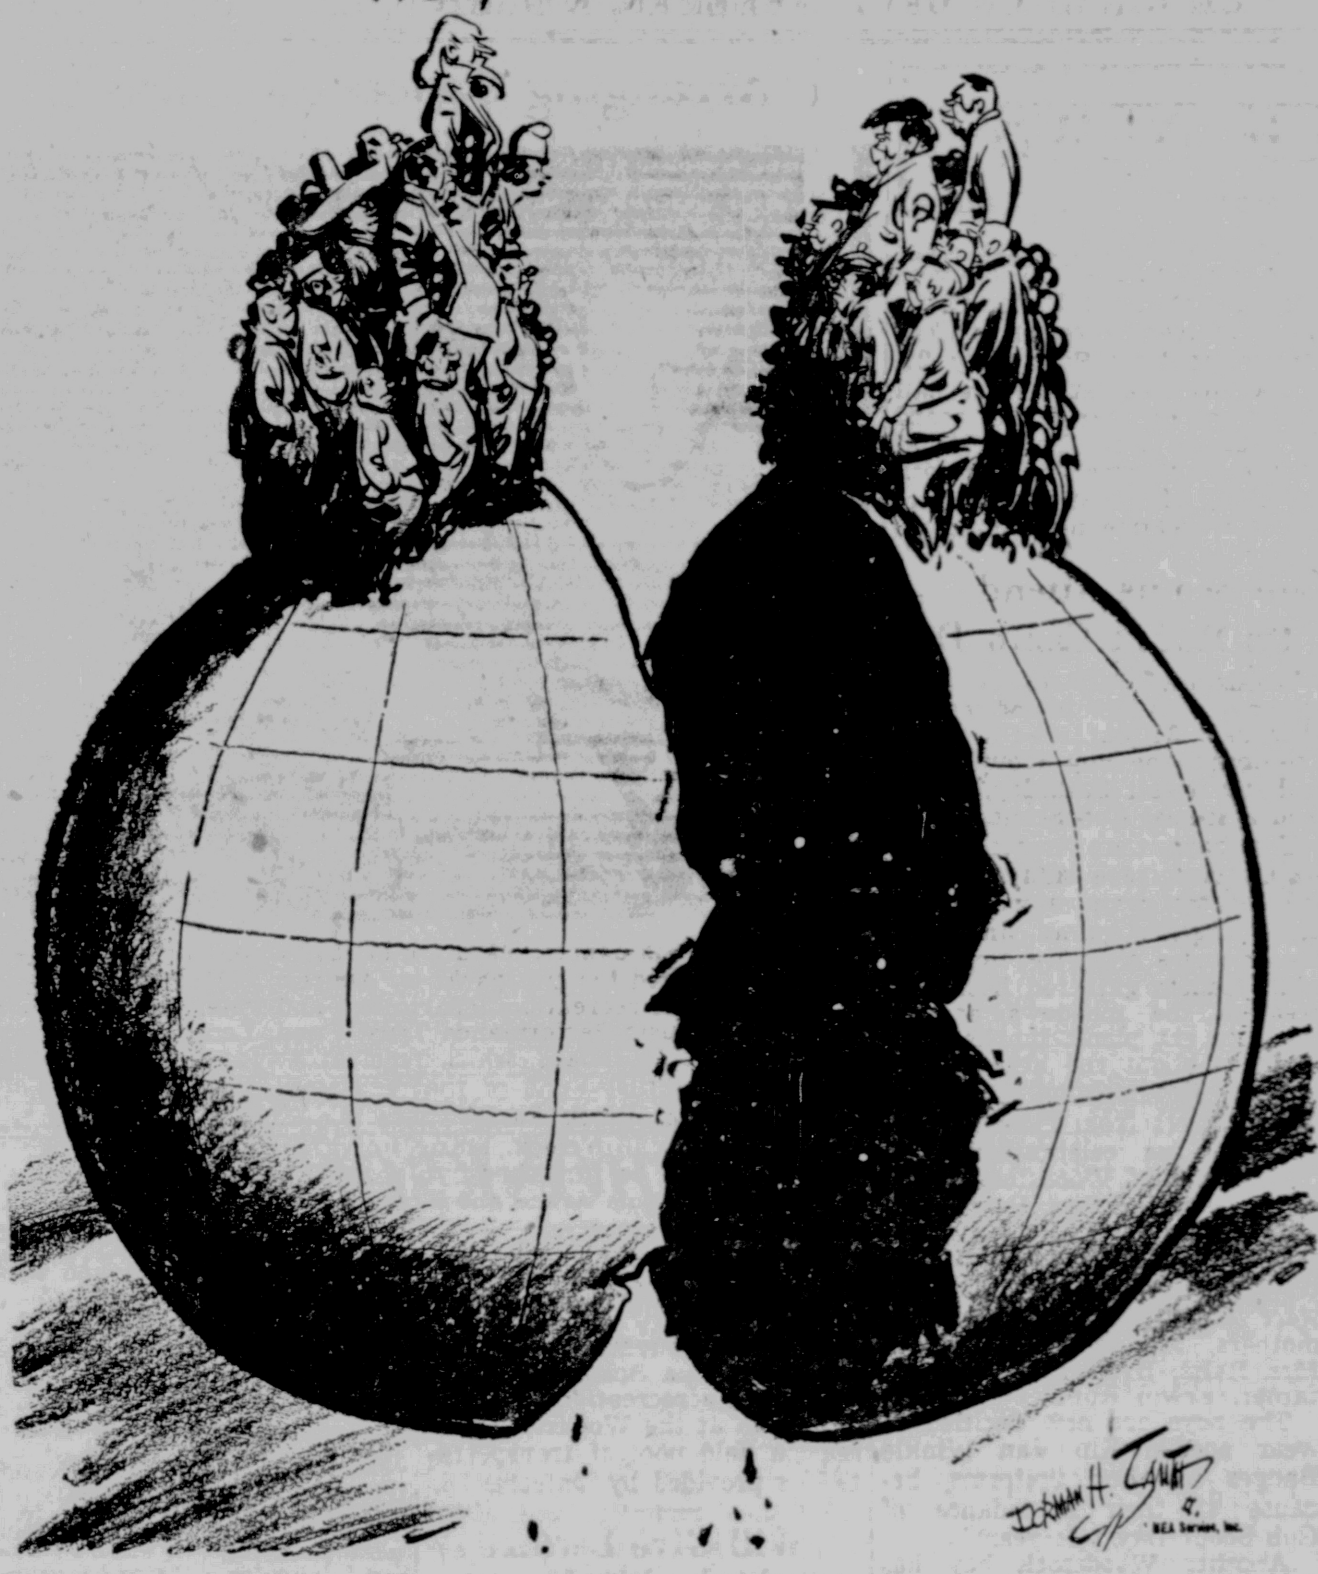

4. In the group method, each member has a chance to test himself in social situations with other kindred spirits who will encourage him. Turning the whole group into a healing agent is one of the most important procedures in the treatment.

Finally, it has been found that there is a spirit of increased cooperation among all those who have benefited from group psychotherapy, both patients and therapists alike. Cooperation is one of the cornerstones of our civilization and an essential in happy community living.

Well, It's One Solution

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington, (NEA)—A number of Washington housewives, disgusted and angered by the tactics Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy used in the recent senatorial investigations of the Private Schine case, have decided to get even by boycotting Wisconsin cheese. They say they will not knowingly either buy or eat Wisconsin dairy products till the farmers of that state take some action to curb their junior senator or get him out of Congress.

When it was suggested to the ladies that a boycott was pretty rough business, they came right back with an answer. They learned the trick from him, and since he fought that way, they would too.

The recalled that the senator once tried to get advertisers to boycott a magazine whose articles on his activities he did not like. He also threatened a radio commentator. If a boycott was fair for him, why not for them?

Washington officials are watching with interest the development of West Germany's newest cabinet department—its Ministry for Family Affairs. Created last October, it is headed by a Catholic CDU politician, Dr. Franz Joseph Wuermeling.

While at first glance a Ministry of Family Affairs sounds like something to carry a welfare state to its ultimate development, the plan is to have it take on no responsibility which can be carried on by the family, the community or the church.

It will interest itself in reducing the tax burden on families, pay subsidies to large families, grant marriage loans, develop family housing and foster the family as the most durable factor of German, anti-Communist Society.

Lobbying for and against the controversial Eisenhower-Benson farm program with its flexible price support levels reached a high point for Washington farm organization pressure tactics.

Farm Bureau Federation threw a hotel dinner for anti-parity congressmen in an effort to win them over. U. S. Chamber of Commerce and the food processor lobbies issued statements and used all the force they could muster against the "parity package" deal which the House Agriculture committee had approved.

In retaliation, National Farmers' Union tried to influence city congressmen, labor unions and consumers' groups in support of higher support levels.

Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Ross, Ritzley used his privilege as a former Oklahoma congressman to go right onto the House floor to lobby for the Administration program.

Sen. Lister Hill (D., Ala.) told the story of his somewhat unusual given name in a speech the other day.

His father was a country doctor. Dr. Hill apparently wanted his son to become a doctor, too, for he named him in honor of Joseph Lister, the great surgeon who first brought the discoveries of Pasteur into the operating room.

Instead of that, Lister Hill became a lawyer. But as a member of Congress, he has worked harder than most doctors to promote health and hospital legislation.

On his ride from the Washington airport to the White House with British Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill, Secretary of State Dulles managed to get a little important business done.

That was the day the question of a vote on investigation of the Guatemala situation was to come before the United Nations Security Council. There were six votes lined up to put the Guatemala question on the UNSC agenda.

Secretary Dulles explained the American position to Sir Winston on that 15-minute auto ride. As a result, the British voted with the United States. France went along too. That cut the vote for giving the question to the Security Council down to four, and there were two abstentions.

This decision probably had a major role in aiding the downfall of the Communist regime in Guatemala. It kept Soviet Russia out. It increased the prestige of the Organization of American States and it saved an important chapter of the UN charter for possible future use in similar emergencies.

Twenty-five per cent of Gen. Maxwell Taylor's Eighth Army in Korea is going to school on duty time.

All this forced education is the result of a finding that over 10 per cent of the troops were technically illiterate.

By intensive training, however, 35,000 troops have now been lifted above this level. An additional 3600 have been carried through the equivalent of the eighth grade.

The purpose of this latter higher education program is to make every noncommissioned officer a grammar school graduate, a smarter and better leader.

New York, July 14—Francis Leary, the attorney for Mrs. Lorraine Eaton Clark, of Amesbury, Mass., accused of murdering her husband, has just made some charges against the press coverage of this case.

It will be remembered, I think, that when this young woman was arrested a wave of sensational, scandalous stories went out across the country concerning an alleged fad, among an undefined group of young married couples, of swapping spouses for the night at drink parties. The reports were circumstantial and unsubstantial, but they left me with an impression that they had been released or leaked to reporters by some person connected with the police authority or the prosecuting authority. Certainly the defense would have no reason to issue this stuff.

Although, this shocking publicity drenched the public which reads the newspapers with propaganda which certainly must have convinced millions that the accused young woman was utterly wicked and that she had murdered her husband in cold blood to be rid of him so that she could somehow have freedom to carry on with an unidentified male of the hypothetical circle. However, this man seemed to have a wife so the plot is open at one end.

Now this is the sort of pre-trial propaganda against a defendant which Frank Hogan, district attorney of New York county, and Louis Waldman, a distinguished New York lawyer who has specialized in union matters but not in the neglect of criminal practice, have been opposing to their considerable pain of late. Hogan has been accused of violating the First Amendment concerning freedom of the press in withholding prejudicial material from papers which would have no decent ethical excuse to print it. And Mr. Waldman has had to take abuse on the same general propositions because he advocated a professional canon which would punish lawyers on either side for fomenting publicity favorable to their respective causes before trial.

Although I read the scandalous stories about the Clark case with perhaps a more observing eye than most of the laity possess, I discover that I was misled myself. I was given to suspect that Hugh A. Clegg, the district attorney, had failed to guard an accused person from the prejudicial publicity. The publicity did point to him or his office.

Mr. Leary, however, although he is opposed to Mr. Clegg, was a life at stake, goes beyond the

Wilson's Statement Tells More Than Hearings During Recent Feud

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, July 16—Charles E. Wilson, secretary of defense, is a man of candor. He has just made a statement to the Senate Armed Services Committee which tells more than all the days of the television hearings in the McCarthy-Stevens feud ever did about the dangers of Communist infiltration that face all the armed services and defense plants.

Evidently American public opinion has not yet been sufficiently aroused on the issue and there has not been enough pointing up of the whole situation in defense plants by Congressional committee investigations because Senator Langer of the Senate Judiciary Committee has not yet felt obligated to report to the Senate a bill that is aimed at subversives in the defense plants. And Secretary Wilson says a law of that kind is badly needed.

Mr. Wilson says, with reference to Communists who are working in defense plants, that while those engaged in secret work can be fired, there is no way to enable private contractors to prevent them from working in other parts of the same plant and maintaining personal contacts with those who do work on secret projects. The head of the Department of Defense says in his prepared statement:

"In our opinion we do not have sufficient legal authority to fully protect all industries vital to national defense from the danger of subversives and security risks. We hope that the legislation that has been proposed to take care of an important part of this problem will receive the consideration we are sure it deserves."

Senator Saltonstall, chairman of the Armed Services Committee, told Secretary Wilson "it might be proper" for Mr. Wilson to urge Senator Langer to get the Judiciary Committee of the Senate to act speedily on it.

When Assistant General Counsel Stemple of the Defense Department, who also testified before the Armed Services Committee, was asked about this lack of authority, he said that "a fairly large number" of subversives are known to be working in defense plants. But nothing can be done about it until a new law is obtained.

So it is apparent now that, after all, the "Let the FBI do it" doctrine doesn't cover cases like that at all.

Incidentally, this is precisely the point that Senator McCarthy has been making—namely, that his congressional committee was exposing the presence of such subversives and making an issue of it before the American people when someone in the administration with less sense than emotion succeeded in forcing a suspension of the regular work of the committee in order to deal with the charges about a loyal American, an anti-Communist who happened to be drafted for army service and who, like thousands of others in past years, had someone on Capitol Hill try to get him a commission in the army.

Speaking of commissions, the secretary of defense in his formal statement has conceded that Major Peress should never have been commissioned and that the case was badly handled. He says:

"A study of the Peress case indicated, among other things, that the undesirable results were due, in part at least, to lack of correlation of information in security cases."

Mr. Wilson tells of a new order, issued by him on April 8, 1954, which requires that "personal records and all investigative records in regard to the security of personnel not now effectively correlated shall be correlated without delay in each of the military departments to insure that full facts are available for prompt and fair administration of all personnel matters."

Mr. Wilson then adds significantly:

"I have asked the assistant secretary of the army to tell this committee what action has been taken to carry this out and to avoid as far as humanly possible a repetition of what occurred in the Peress case."

Mr. Wilson goes somewhat further in emphasizing what the public furor over subversives in the armed services has led to when he says: "As I reported to you at our last meeting (March 1, 1954), we have taken more effective steps not only to rid the services of undesirable security risks who might be found in the armed forces but also to block off at all points the entry of such persons into the military services."

The Defense Department secretary sums up what really might well be described as the value of the exposures made during the last several months by Senator McCarthy's committee on governmental operations. For Mr. Wilson says:

"Aside from these specific actions which I have outlined above, there is another result which I think is perhaps the most important one. That is a revitalization of the entire department from the top echelons down with respect to strengthening, accelerating, and making more effective our machinery to protect the security of the nation within the Department of Defense."

It will be conceded, therefore, by all fair-minded persons who are not interested in political combat or in personality prejudices but in stamping out Communist agents, sympathizers and fellow travelers from the government, that only by the fullest publicity and immunity from libel prosecutions—which a congressional committee is privileged to get—can public opinion be sufficiently informed on all these delicate issues affecting the security of the United States.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, July 14—Francis Leary, the attorney for Mrs. Lorraine Eaton Clark, of Amesbury, Mass., accused of murdering her husband, has just made some charges against the press coverage of this case.

It will be remembered, I think, that when this young woman was arrested a wave of sensational, scandalous stories went out across the country concerning an alleged fad, among an undefined group of young married couples, of swapping spouses for the night at drink parties. The reports were circumstantial and unsubstantial, but they left me with an impression that they had been released or leaked to reporters by some person connected with the police authority or the prosecuting authority. Certainly the defense would have no reason to issue this stuff.

Although, this shocking publicity drenched the public which reads the newspapers with propaganda which certainly must have convinced millions that the accused young woman was utterly wicked and that she had murdered her husband in cold blood to be rid of him so that she could somehow have freedom to carry on with an unidentified male of the hypothetical circle. However, this man seemed to have a wife so the plot is open at one end.

Now this is the sort of pre-trial propaganda against a defendant which Frank Hogan, district attorney of New York county, and Louis Waldman, a distinguished New York lawyer who has specialized in union matters but not in the neglect of criminal practice, have been opposing to their considerable pain of late. Hogan has been accused of violating the First Amendment concerning freedom of the press in withholding prejudicial material from papers which would have no decent ethical excuse to print it. And Mr. Waldman has had to take abuse on the same general propositions because he advocated a professional canon which would punish lawyers on either side for fomenting publicity favorable to their respective causes before trial.

Although I read the scandalous stories about the Clark case with perhaps a more observing eye than most of the laity possess, I discover that I was misled myself. I was given to suspect that Hugh A. Clegg, the district attorney, had failed to guard an accused person from the prejudicial publicity. The publicity did point to him or his office.

Mr. Leary, however, although he is opposed to Mr. Clegg, was a life at stake, goes beyond the ordinary ethical formality of one lawyer discussing his adversary in such circumstances. Mr. Leary says positively that Mr. Clegg has had no part in this propaganda but, on the contrary has contradicted some statements attributed to him which might have caused prejudice against Mrs. Clark.

He gave me a telephone number at which ordinarily Mr. Clegg could be reached, but a state trooper at that office said Clegg was enroute somewhere and out of touch. Meanwhile, here we have the defense attorney aggressively absolving his opponent of any part in the fomentation of this wild hurricane of scandal unsupported by a single word of any official record and aggressively blaming the press which he flatly accuses of lying and faking.

"My experience with reporters on this case has led me to believe that a lot of things attributed to Clegg were made out of whole cloth," Mr. Leary said. "The reporting," and Leary did not say merely some of it, "has been rotten. If they tell me they are going to gun me I will fight them just the same. I came out of the Salem House of Correction after interviewing Mrs. Clark and a group of newsmen from two big cities came at me. I said 'no comment' three times. Yet the next morning I am alleged to have said there would be many red faces and so forth. This was a complete fiction. I did not say it. This went out across the country. People called me wanting to know whether there would be red faces in Amesbury society or in the district attorney's office. One reporter called me late that night and when I said again 'no comment' he said 'if you persist, we will create prejudice in the mind of every prospective juror in the county of Essex.'"

He could not prove the identity of the caller.

Mr. Leary bore down on the fact that Salem, where he interviewed Mrs. Clark in the House of Correction, is the site of the historic witch trials.

"A man who lived in Newburyport disappeared," he went on. "He had been very ill and had had six or seven operations. A headline tried to associate him with this case. He was

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

Story of Unique Paintings Is Told On Video Program

Woodstock, July 16—The story of the unique paintings of Baroness Charlotte Serneaux-Gregori of Schoonmaker Lane, Woodstock, was told recently on Treasurama, WOR-TV every weekday afternoon panel show series, it has been disclosed.

The details of his visit to Woodstock and his story at the residence of Baroness Serneaux-Gregori was related on the program by Richard H. Roffman, producer of Treasurama. Roffman was accompanied by Albert Levin, lawyer, industrialist and veteran radio broadcaster, on his trip to Woodstock a few weeks ago in doing a quick survey of the noted art colony.

Baroness Serneaux-Gregori was once the mistress of a 7,000-acre estate and castle in Silesia, Germany. Later she went to Japan where she was one of the first European women to go into the import-export business.

Consultant to Army Later after World War 2, she was a civilian consultant to the U. S. Army protecting GIs against spurious cultured pearl necklaces and fake curios. She has lived in Woodstock for six years, has been painting for two years. Her work at this time includes tree trunks and portraits under the theme of "Timely Faces" which mirror the sorrows of the present day. She recently had her first one-man show at the Pachita Crespi art gallery in New York.

Puppeteers Will Perform During Fair for Library

Woodstock, July 16—Adjoining the midway section of the Woodstock Library Fair, to be held Thursday, July 29, will be the enclosure to the rear of the library where Peppermint Puppeteers will present three performances during the afternoon. The show is entitled "Adventures of Tommy," adapted by Mrs. Margaret Wetterau from the story by H. G. Wells. The members of the group are the students of Mrs. Wetterau's Children's Workshop of the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen. The costumes and stage set are derived from Wells illustrations for his book.

According to Mrs. Wetterau, the puppets have already been completed, including a large cast of funny animals, and the group is about to embark upon the scenery.

"They are working extremely hard," she reports, "and what's more they are pleased and happy with their assignment at the Library Fair."

Griffin Herrick is constructing the puppet theatre which will stand inside the enclosure. Mrs. Wetterau's own puppets, which she created for the Rip Van Winkle story, being presented daily at Rip's Retreat at South Lake, are widely known in the area. She has been teaching the art of puppetry at the Guild for a number of years at the Children's Workshop.

Members of the group, aged eight to 11 years, are as follows: Barbara and Leslie Feldshuh, Ingle Guston, Martin Eisgrau, David Barth, Carol Neal, Esther Klein, John Michelman, Warren Weitman, Webb Dordick, all of Woodstock; and Paul and Martin Kuhn of Kingston.

Esther Klein, aged 9, has created a special announcer for the show, and she will speak for her own puppet, acting as both announcer and critic for the show. She will appear in the person of Miss Offie Pink, who will also offer some pungent comment on the press.

The show, with the performers aided by a public address system, provided by Eimer's Radio Service, will be presented three times during the day, at 2 p. m., 3 p. m., and 4 p. m.

Firemen Change Laws
Woodstock, July 16—At a meeting of the Woodstock Fire Company No. 1, Monday night at the fire hall, changes were made in the by-laws. Those who plan to attend the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Convention at New Paltz July 24, will kindly meet at the fire hall at 3 p. m., on that day to board the bus to New Paltz. Chief George Haythorne assisted with the filling of the swimming pool at the recreation field Monday.

Cub Scouts Attend

Tri-Mount Camp Day

Woodstock, July 16—A delegation of Cub Scouts and leaders from Pack 34 journeyed to Camp Tri-Mount, the Boy Scout Camp in East Jewett Saturday, to attend a special Cub Scout Day.

The boys were treated to a watermelon race and feast, a tour of the camp, a waterfront demonstration, games, and singing around a campfire. Boys and adult leaders gathered from this area in the meadows at the camp to eat picnic lunches and to learn about the activities of the Boy Scout Camp.

Youngsters from Pack 34 who attended the celebration were from Den 3 of Woodstock. They were: David Kricker, Barry Wilber, Harley Avery, Paul Stolpinski, Allen Waterous, Jr., Steven Ruff and David Barth. They were accompanied by their mothers, Mrs. Erwin Ruff and Mrs. Ralph Kricker, and by one father, Erwin Ruff.

The boys are now entitled to wear special Rip Van Winkle Badges on their uniforms, because of their attendance at Cub Scout Day this year.

Another Woodstock boy has been awarded a badge at the Boy Scout Camp. Konrad King was given the much coveted Order of the Arrow last Saturday evening, during fireside ceremonies at the evening campfire. Konrad was one of five boys selected from the entire camp to earn this badge. As their entrance requirements into the special, the boys were required to sleep alone in the woods for a night, and spend an entire day doing heavy labor, without speaking to anyone during the day.

Sale for Blind Set

For Church Monday

Woodstock, July 16—The annual Woodstock sale for the blind will be held Monday, July 19, from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., on the Lutheran Church lawn. The committees serving at the sale ask the residents of this village and vicinity to visit the sale on the date. In the event of rain, the sale will be held under the church shed.

Mrs. Victor Shults is serving as general chairman of the Woodstock sale for the blind.

The blind make and offer for sale many practical and economical household articles used every day in the home. Every purchase directly benefits the blind, as the selling price of each article is made up of the cost of materials plus the wages paid the blind worker.

Residents are urged to plan to visit the sale.

Graphic Workshop

Starts in Gallery

Woodstock, July 16—This week marks the beginning of the Graphic Workshop located in the basement of the Art Gallery, under the direction of Reginald Neal. Neal will teach professional print making for artists, and also welcomes beginners.

Neal, a nationally known painter and lithographer, is chairman of the art department of the University of Mississippi. Recently a colored lithograph of his shown in the Cincinnati Biennial was among the prints chosen from this exhibition to be sent to Paris for the International Colored Lithograph Exhibition. An exhibition of his oils was held at the Harry Salpeter Gallery in New York in 1953.

Persons interested in working with Neal may get additional information any afternoon in the print room.

Garden Club Members

Are Feted at Tea

West Shokan, July 16—Members of the Garden Clubs of Ontario, Oneonta and Shawangunk, were entertained at a tea at the Watson Hollow Inn Thursday afternoon.

It was announced by Mrs. Thomas Bunday, president of the Ontario Garden Club, of Tannersville, that there will be a house and garden tour of six houses Tuesday, Aug. 3. Luncheon will be served at the Field Club. Among the six houses to be shown will be the home of Miss Dorothy Shaefer, president of Lord and Taylor. Those wishing to make the tour may notify Mrs. Bunday.

Among those present were Mrs. Percy Smallin, program chairman for the 6th Oneonta District and past president of the Ontario Garden Club, and Miss Ann Henniger, of Ellenville, president of the Shawangunk Garden Club.

Plans Are Discussed

For Old Timers Game

Woodstock, July 16—The Woodstock Recreation Committee met Wednesday night at the Town Hall to make plans for a ball game between the Old Timers and the Young Timers, to be held July 25, at 6 p. m., at the recreation field. Old Timers in this village wishing to participate are requested to communicate with Dave Myer or Wash Wilber. For the Young Timers which wish to be signed they may get in touch with Walter Van Wageningen, or Kenneth Harder.

The Jones Boys, the team sponsored by the Recreation Committee have become members of the Twilight League. Their first game will be today

Arranging Dances for Parks

A series of six dances, featuring bands by popular local leaders, is being arranged for city parks by Andrew J. Murphy 3d, superintendent of the recreation department, and Peter Ferraro, chairman of the Music Performance Trust Fund, Local 215, American Federation of Musicians, which receives a grant from the Music Performance Trust Fund of the recording industry. Tonight the series starts at Block Park, where Ole Christensen's band will play from 8 to 10 o'clock. Music for other park dances, open to the public, will be furnished by Johnny Knapp, Johnny Michaels, Don Pierson, Louis Arace and Frank Vigna. (Freeman photo) at the recreation field, at 6:30 p. m., with the team from Shandaken.

It was announced that pupils of the Ontario School, which is sponsoring a recreation program, may swim at the Woodstock recreation field pool, if transportation is provided by Ontario.

Will Give Lecture

Woodstock, July 16—About

Art and Democracy will be the title of a lecture to be given by Robert Inglehart at the Art Gallery, Friday, July 23, at 8:30 p. m. Inglehart is chairman of the Department of Art Education of New York University. Inglehart's talk in the Gallery a year ago was considered one of the most stimulating evenings last summer, according to Sidney Laufman, chairman of Extension for the Woodstock Artists Association. It is expected that there will be an equally exciting evening this year.

Why We Say--

"THORN IN THE FLESH"

This expression for something that is irritating dates back to Biblical times. The Pharisees believed that they were better than other men, but yet wanted something to make them suffer. They put a briar thorn in their garments to irritate their legs as they walked... thus creating a "thorn in the flesh."

HOLIDAY SUGGESTIONS

According to a dispatch out of Washington, a new organization has set up shop in the capital district which calls itself "Holidays for America." It is dedicated to the proposition that there ought to be more holidays on the calendar.

I think this is a jim-dandy notion, and although nobody asked me, I'd like to suggest 13 unsung heroes who, in my opinion, rate a day of celebration. . . .

The inventor of the handkerchief—the only person who ever did anything for the common cold.

The Neanderthal man who picked the first bunch of flowers and brought it into a cave.

The inspired plumber who gave us hot running water. (In addition to a holiday, I think he rates a plaque on every bathtub.)

Jimmy Durante. For making life go down a bit easier through two wars and three depressions.

The artist who first put red paint on fire engines and green paint on shutters.

The noble Italian who married ice to cream and came up with ice cream.

The gent who locked himself in a greenhouse and emerged several years later with a seedless grape.

The humanitarian who sewed up the first pair of carpet slippers.

Walt Disney. The benefactor who made the first chair.

Joyce Kern. For composing the liltiest music this side of Offenbach.

The showman who produced our best piece of entertainment—the pet shop window.

A whole week of holidays with free chocolate sodas, for the lazybones who invented holidays.

I'd also like to see the new organization set aside seven days for seven heroes not only unsung but as yet, unborn.

The confectioner who will again make old-time penny candy—and sell it for a penny.

The inventor of the harmless cigarette. The smoke to consist of pure oxygen and taste like pure nicotine.

The engineer who will build tunnels under existing tunnels and skyways over existing skyways and thus relieve traffic congestion in existing tunnels and skyways.

The inventor of a laughing gas which will induce a wife to laugh at jokes she has heard her husband tell dozens of times.

The optometrist who devises a pair of specs for the married man who will make his wife—and only his wife—look like Marilyn Monroe.

The chemist who concocts a mouthwash to kill the odor of the chlorophyll used by people to kill the odor of garlic.

The genius who invents the blessed thingamuhbob which will turn the hydrogen bomb into so much rice pudding. (Copyright, 1954, by Billy Rose) lands. It was referred to the county attorney.

Supervisor Perry also called attention to the condition of the Sterling street and Wilbur avenue dumps. He said they were infested with rodents and bugs and since the city has no board of health, in his opinion, the county should take steps to see the dumps were sprayed. He said he believed the county had the right to step in and seek action.

Supervisor McHugh said this was a city problem and the county health department had no jurisdiction. He suggested it be left to the city. The matter was referred to the Health Committee for investigation.

At this point Supervisor Turk called attention to the traffic signs at East Chester street directing trucks over that route.

He said the city had no right to shove trucks over on the streets of his ward, he believed the trucks had a right to operate where they desired and he suggested the sign be taken down and traffic allowed to choose its own route.

Says Problem City's

County Attorney Davis stated this was a city problem and the city had a right to direct traffic as it desired in the city.

Turk said that may be true but the city was directing traffic out over county routes and he believed it became a county problem then.

Supervisor Fitzsimmons of Woodstock reported Assemblyman Kenneth Wilson was recovering at the Benedictine Hospital from an operation for ulcers but was still unable to have visitors.

On motion of Supervisor McHugh the board adopted a resolution on the death of James F. Loughran and the board adjourned out of respect to his memory.

In Albany today a spokesman for the Thruway Authority said there would be no comment until the board acted on Turk's proposal and communicated with the authority.

Scott Dies in Chair

For Slaying Policeman

Ossining, N. Y., July 16 (AP)—

Emil H. (Sonny) Scott, 21, was electrocuted at Sing Sing Prison last night for the murder of Patrolman John Pendergrass, 53, in New York City.

Scott shot Pendergrass after a liquor store holdup on the night of April 3, 1953.

Scott entered the execution chamber accompanied by the Rev. Thomas J. Donovan, Roman Catholic chaplain. Scott looked around the room but said nothing before he was strapped into the electric chair.

Authorities said Scott had hoped to the last minute for clemency from Gov. Thomas E. Dewey or a court stay of execution.

Scott, who was arrested at Amityville on Long Island the day after the murder of Pendergrass, served a nine-month reformatory term at the age of 15 for shooting a detective who was trying to break up a dance hall brawl.

Stay Granted Puff

A one-week stay of execution was granted yesterday to Gerhard Puff, 40, who had been scheduled for electrocution July 21 for the murder of FBI Agent Joseph Brock.

Judges Jerome N. Frank and Carroll C. Hincks, both of the U. S. Second Court of Appeals, signed the stay order. Frank said the postponement of execution was granted to allow Puff's counsel time to apply to a U. S. Supreme Court justice for a further stay. Puff has been in the Sing Sing Prison death house for more than 13 months, and several appeals have been denied.

Puff was convicted of the fatal shooting of Brock in a gun battle in a hotel in Manhattan where FBI agents had gone to arrest Puff for a Kansas bank robbery.

Car Hits Barriade

An automobile driven by Melvin Navy, 31, of 182 Washington avenue crashed through the barriade on the Ontario Trail at the west end of the Thruway interchange construction area about 1 a. m. today, according to a sheriff's office report. The automobile was damaged about its front right side when it took down a barriade with electric lights, three oil flares and a lantern, then struck the left rear corner of a crane owned by the Ottaviano Construction Company, Deputy Sheriff Albert Eisele and Fred Brinkman reported. Navy suffered a neck injury for which he would consult his own physician, the deputies reported.

Reports Striking Dog

Vincent Clearwater of 48 Gage street reported to police yesterday that his car struck a dog about 7:10 a. m. The dog, apparently unhurt, ran from the scene, he said.

Marlborough Man

Files in Bankruptcy

New York, July 15 (Special)—

A Marlborough gas-station owner filed a petition here today in the United States District Court seeking to have himself declared bankrupt.

The petitioner, John J. Amodeo of Birdsal avenue, Marlborough, said he had only $600 in assets and $29,288 in debts. The bulk of his liabilities, $27,288, is unsecured.

His chief creditor is Eugene Giacomini of Newburgh, owed $25,000 unsecured. His father, Anthony Amodeo of Marlborough holds a mortgage on which $2,000 is due, which represents the major secured liability.

Amodeo operates the Amodeo Brothers Service Station in Marlborough.

Tocks Provides

of many truckloads of fill during the early spring.

Hansen sees to it that the safety factors as prescribed by the American Red Cross are enforced, and lifesaving equipment is maintained during the supervised swim period.

The program was envisioned some time ago by a Hurley resident, Lester A. Tocks, president of Stuyvesant Motors.

Tocks sounded out the school board members, who apparently received Tocks' offer of assistance with enthusiasm.

Hansen's services were obtained, and financed, by the community-minded automobile dealer. The school board appropriated a sum of money for equipment, and approved the use of the school grounds. Other necessary items, including insurance, were taken care of, and the six-week program became a reality shortly after July 4.

The director of the program, Hansen, is a graduate of Bates College, Me., where he starred in baseball, basketball and track. He took his master's degree in physical education at Columbia University in New York, and is now employed as a coach in a secondary academy in Maine. He has chosen Ulster county as a summer residence and has a place near Woodstock where he and his wife are spending the summer.

The enthusiasm with which the youngsters turn out for the program indicates it will be continued and probably expanded in future years, Tocks said today. Plans are now being made to have a field day at the conclusion of this year's session, with perhaps contests and awards, and with parents and friends invited.

Sale Is Postponed

The foreclosure sale of a parcel of land on St. James street owned by Eastern Tractor Manufacturing Corporation, scheduled for today, has been postponed another week to Friday, July 23, at noon at the Ulster County Court House, according to an announcement dated today and signed by Lloyd R. LeFever, referee.

Clinics Are Canceled

The Well-Baby Clinics originally scheduled to be held at Stone Ridge July 21 and Aug. 18 have been canceled, Dr. Dudley W. Hargrave, commissioner of health of Ulster county, announced today. The next Well-Baby Clinic will be held at the Stone Ridge Health Center Sept. 15.

B & B Business Sold

A Middletown concern, Certified Electronics Inc., has purchased B & B Floor Covering Inc., Groff street and Albany avenue extension, according to an announcement from Claude Burger, local real estate broker, who said that the former owner has opened business in Naples, Fla.

Smoke Is Reported

Several calls were received by police headquarters early last night from the Ponckhockie section reporting that smoke and an unpleasant smell were coming from the mushroom cave on Delaware avenue. Officers Hydreet Armstrong and Crawford Millham investigated and reported a pile of rubbish burning outside the cave.

Builder Testifies

William J. Levitt, one of the builders of Levittown, N. Y., and Levittown, Pa., tells investigating Senators in Washington, July 15, the New York project, built with government-insured loans, cleared more than five million dollars in profits. Levitt said government-insured mortgages totalled nearly 30 million dollars and actual costs of construction were $24,160,000. (AP Wirephoto).

A United States Sergeant, E. W. Morris, left, of Morgantown, Ga., and a Soviet infantryman unload rocks from a Soviet army truck at Langenlebern, Austria, as part of the effort to fight current Danube River floods. On July 15 Vienna newspapers called it the "picture that will go around the world," citing it as an example of men in different uniforms working together. (AP Wirephoto via radio from London).

Millard T. Davis
Is Caucus Victor

At the Republican caucus held last evening in the town of Ulster, Millard T. Davis, chairman of the board of fire commissioners, won out by a vote of 118 to 92 over Louis DiDonna for the office of justice of the peace. This is the only town office to be filled at the fall election and the vacancy was created when Clarence Rappleyea resigned.

A special meeting of the town board will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock at which time the board is expected to fill the vacancy until the office is filled by election. It is anticipated the appointment will be Davis who was selected by the enrolled voters last evening as their candidate.

King's Chorus

A musical program was presented at the Kiwanis Club's Thursday luncheon meeting at the Governor Clinton Hotel by a group of members of the King's Chorus under direction of Donald R. Romme.

Members of the chorus who participated were June Crosby, Susan Danford, Mary Jo Hau-lenbeck, Dorothy Talleur, Mary Lou Baffa, John Hill, John Dumphy and DeCosta Dawson.

Chorus numbers included "With These Hands, Brother Will Swing Low Sweet Chariot, Carry Me Home to the Lone Prairie and The Little Worm. A solo, Your Eyes Have Told Me So, was sung by June Crosby, and Romme rendered a piano solo, Malaguna. DeCosta Dawson, a 1953 Kiwanis scholarship winner, also gave a piano solo.

Three new Kiwanis members were introduced at the meeting. They were: John Spinnenweber, Leonard Herrick and John Collins Troy.

Sullivan Asks Help

The Sullivan County Sheriff's Department has requested the assistance of the Ulster Sheriff's Department in locating a 69-year-old woman missing from her home since Monday. The missing woman was identified as Mrs. Jane A. Raftis, wife of William J. Raftis, of Old Loomis Road, Liberty. She is five feet, three inches tall, weighs about 145 pounds, and has dark brown short hair, gray at the sides, and has brown eyes and a deeply tanned complexion. When last seen she was wearing a blue skirt, a blue and white print sheer dress over the skirt, blue suit jacket, no stockings, and blue canvas sandals. Although she is 69, she appears younger, the report stated, and she had been previously treated for mental illness.

EASY TERMS!

How much horsepower
in your ad program?

If you want your products to move faster, take a cue from the automobile people. They stepped up their newspaper advertising by 47.1% last year.

BIG NATIONAL ADVERTISERS of all types of products increased their newspaper advertising heavily in 1953.

But in the giant automotive field—where manufacturers had to sell as never before—they turned to newspapers with even more dramatic force.

Certainly these big advertisers use other media to help move their mountainous production—but they rely on newspapers as the basic medium in their sales effort.

They know that almost all the people in every town read a newspaper just about every day. It's one thing people won't do without!

They know that people read the newspaper for the ads as well as for the news—and that sales action follows newspaper reading!

IF YOU SELL PRODUCTS IN THIS AREA—don't settle for advertising that covers part of your market part of the time. For fast movement of your products, you need a steady, high-power ad program that hits on all cylinders!

If you're not getting newspaper advertising on all your products, don't delay. Tell your wholesalers and manufacturers' men you want full support in your local newspaper.

The Mature Parent

It's Silly to Ask Child to Endure Aggressive Curiosity

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

When Helen's piano teacher advanced her prices, her mother discontinued her lessons. Shortly after, the mother of one of Helen's schoolmates offered to teach her. As her prices were lower than anyone else's in town, Helen's mother accepted.

Helen is not enjoying her lessons. The time she spends at Mrs. M.'s house begins and ends uncomfortably.

Mrs. M. keeps wanting to know why Helen's mother doesn't put her on a reducing diet. She wants to know if her uncle is going to lend his summer cottage to her parents again this season. She often criticizes Helen's clothes as too "childish."

But when Helen complains of Mrs. M.'s odd behavior, her mother either ignores her or says, "Don't be silly. You only imagine that Mrs. M. is mean to you."

Now if we have an hallucinated child who believes she's been misused when she hasn't, she has one kind of problem. If we have one who has been misused in fact, she has another kind. In neither case, are we entitled to ignore her problem.

We tell her that she only "imagines" she has one for any number of reasons.

Like Helen's mother who wished to retain cheap piano lessons, we may want to ignore our child's problems because to admit their existence would interfere with our plans.

Or we may fear to express our own aggressiveness toward her and be pleased when she suffers it from somebody else.

Or when the somebody else is another adult, we may feel that our child will be unmanly to resist grownup attack.

And often we will tell her that she only "imagines" she's being mistreated because we ourselves accept other people's aggressive curiosity and are irritated by our child's resistance to what we resentfully put up with.

It is, of course, a pretty silly thing to endure. It can be handled quite simply as soon as we realize that submission to such curiosity is hangover from childhood's fear of demanding privacy.

To the child who is struggling with aggressive curiosity like Mrs. M.'s, we say:

"People who attack us never want to know why they want to hurt us. So when we ask them why they want to do it, they usually stop hurting us."

"So next time Mrs. M. asks why I don't put you on a reducing diet or why Daddy didn't come home last weekend, you say, 'Why do you want to know why Mother doesn't put me on a diet? Why do you want to know why Daddy wasn't at home last weekend?'"

Children will be grateful for this help, since people like Mrs. M. often give them, because they are helpless, a most uncomfortable experience.

Risk Rates Raised

London, July 15 (AP)—Lloyds underwriters today raised shipping risk rates for all Indo-China ports, except Saigon, from two shillings (28 cents) to one pound ($2.80) per 100 pounds.

effective immediately. Thus the insurance cost becomes 10 times the previous charges for war, strike, riot and civil commotion risks. The rate involving the port of Saigon goes up from two to five shillings per 100 pounds.

As Pegler Sees It

found in the river and the case was a suicide.

Leary turned to the impression that the thus far mythical circle of spouse-traders had been of that vague but appreciable social and economic stratum known as "society." The fact is that Mrs. Clark, a mother of three small children, was a waitress in a respectable but ordinary eating place and earned, he estimated, not more than $35 a week, including tips. Her husband was a factory worker drawing "about $90 or $100." He was an assistant foreman.

Meanwhile, a statement of confession, withheld from the public, has been described across the country as "lurid" and Mr. Clegg has been quoted to the effect that he was keeping it secret out of consideration for the children. Their benefit from that restraint would be only momentary, however, and of no value over the long haul of their lives, if it should be put into the record in a trial.

This performance came at the very time that Hogan and Waldman were maintaining their stand against persons absolutely naked of any authority to speak for "the press" but presuming to do so nevertheless. It has excellent qualities for a thorough examination and a test case to determine the truth of Leary's charges.

WALLKILL NEWS

92 Children Enroll In Swimming Program

Wallkill, July 15—The summer swimming program for children of the Wallkill area started last Tuesday morning with an initial enrollment of 92 children.

The group is divided in half with one section meeting Monday, Wednesday and Friday. The other section meets on Tuesday and Thursday. The children are taken to Tillson Lake where they receive instruction in swimming under the supervision of Mrs. Joseph Kazimer and Donald Woodworth, both of whom are qualified Red Cross instructors.

This year the program is open to all children of the area who are nine years old and over. In order to provide some organized recreation for younger children as well as those who are not participating in the swimming program the recreation committee will have a park program this year. This group will have as its instructor Mrs. Harold Birdsall who was the girls physical education director at the Wallkill Central School for the past several years.

Birdsall will need some help to carry out the program she has planned. Anyone who is interested should contact her to volunteer his services. Her telephone number is Wallkill 3-1281. The program started on July 12 in the town park.

The cost of the recreation program is paid for with an appropriation of the Shawangunk Town Board and voluntary contributions from parents, interested individuals and local organizations. The sum of $800 must be raised through voluntary contributions this year if the program is to continue. Contributions will be accepted by George Vogel or John Gardiner.

Village Notes.

Wallkill, July 15—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wadlin of St. Petersburg, Fla., have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Masten.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bennette of Jersey City, N. J., Mr. and Mrs. William J. Ryan, and Andrew DeMarco and daughter Dawn were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Scarzello last weekend.

Mrs. Anne Ellis of Endicott is visiting at the home of her daughter Mrs. LeRoy Masten.

George Foster and son Brian are spending a few days with relatives in Staten Island.

Miss Dorothy Ellis of Ridge-wood, N. J., was a recent guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mack last week.

Mrs. Ruth Saunders and son Thomas spent a vacation in Oneonta.

Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Portuondo were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Somerville of Milbrook and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Vande Mark of Walden.

Miss Dawn DeMarco is visiting this week with her aunt Mrs. John Scarzello.

Church Picnic Held

Wallkill, July 15—The choir of the Wallkill Reformed Church and their families enjoyed a picnic supper on the parsonage lawn Monday evening.

Mrs. Malcolm Van de Mark, president, welcomed members and their families as well as the consistory and their wives who were guests of the choir.

The Rev. Van Poyning presented Mrs. Joseph Morris with a farewell gift in behalf of the choir.

The committee in charge of the evening were Mrs. Malcolm Van de Mark, Mrs. George Parli-man, Mrs. George Crist, Mrs. Viola Jansen and Mrs. Claude Decker. They were assisted by several young girls of the church who helped serving.

Plane Has Test

Seattle, July 16 (AP)—What the plane Boeing Airplane Co. believes is the world's largest and fastest jet airliner has left its nest and proved its wings in a dramatic flight test. The big ship, dubbed the 70 and built to serve as an airliner for the commercial airways or a tanker to haul fuel for air force jet bombers, took off on its maiden flight yesterday afternoon. The takeoff of the 110,000-pound craft came at a point two-thirds of the way down the 5,400-foot runway at Renton Municipal Airport. Its four, 10,000-horsepower jet engines had boosted it into the air in 17 seconds. Within 15 minutes it was at 20,000 feet. An hour and 24 minutes later it landed after what its pilots said was a faultless flight.

NEW PALTZ NEWS

School District 1 Has Annual Meeting

New Paltz, July 15—The annual school meeting of New Paltz Central School District No. 1 was held in the high school auditorium Tuesday night.

Dr. Virgil DeWitt, retiring president of the school board, opened the meeting with a short resume of the year's activities.

Dr. DeWitt acknowledged the happy relations the board had with the state, and the State Teachers College, which worked hand-in-hand with the district school board on many important matters. Dr. DeWitt informed those at the meeting that the school system was commended by the state education department in its guidance of the children.

Some Teachers Leave

Of the 24 teachers hired for the past school term, seven are leaving, one is retiring, two did not have their contracts renewed, two got married, and some are leaving to be in their husband's work location. Two others are going into government service.

Dr. DeWitt paid special tribute to the citizen's committee headed by Mrs. John Jacobson for its work during the past year in co-operation with the board.

The state education department also commended the school for its work in adult education, with 300 attending. In the future it is hoped, said Dr. DeWitt, for more variety of classes in this field, and a still larger attendance. He reminded those present that the program is state supported.

In closing Dr. DeWitt proclaimed that in the past five years since he was elected to serve on the board he has become better acquainted with the problems, obstacles, school procedures and the work of all concerned with the school board.

Beebe Presides

Edgar Beebe took over the duties as chairman for the rest of the meeting. He first expressed the deep appreciation of the board's service for the past five years, particularly for that of the retiring president, Dr. DeWitt, which met with applause.

Treasurer Wilbur Fredenburgh read the treasurer's report, followed by the report of the tax collector, Attorney Peter Harp, then read the qualifications of voters at this annual school meeting.

Beebe then called the following to act as tellers for the voting of the first school board member to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Charles Moerkhe; Robert Glanz, chairman, John Thoben, George Majestic, Harry Lunt and Gregory Rheude. The two men contesting this vacancy were George Langwick and John Schreiber. The total votes of 366 were divided in this manner: Langwick 248; Schreiber 112; two write-ins for Ruth Heidgerd, and four void.

The tellers appointed for the election of the next director were: Chairman Ralph Buchanan, Frank Tantillo, Harold Tannenbaum, Charles Langwick and Rexford Schneider. The two candidates were John Jacobson and Walter Dyer. The total vote of 350 was divided with 169 for Jacobson and 181 for Dyer.

A proposed budget of $179,910.55 was approved by a vote of 149 to 16.

A proposal by Gregory Rheude that voting take place from 2 to 8 p. m. on the day following the annual school meeting was carried by a vote of 66 to 5.

763 Attend Session

New Paltz, July 15—A total of 763 students are reported enrolled in the New Paltz State Teachers College for the summer session. Many field trips have been planned, it is reported.

Quartet Is Presented

New Paltz, July 15—The Claremont Quartet presented a concert in the College Union lounge of the State University

Teachers College at New Paltz on Tuesday evening of this week. The members showed superior technical control of their instruments and a thorough understanding of the music performed. The playing of the group as an ensemble was usually excellent, an outstanding example of this occurring in the slow movement of the Haydn where various pairs of instruments were teamed to imitative passages.

Theatre Workshop To Give 'Our Town'

New Paltz, July 16—The Summer Theatre Workshop will present Thornton Wilder's 'Our Town,' a play in three acts as a Reading Theatre production on Wednesday evening at 8:30, July 21, in the Lounge of the Student Union. There is no admission charge and the college welcomes friends who are interested.

This play was produced with tremendous success at the Henry Miller Theatre in New York with Frank Craven in the leading part. Subsequently, Thornton Wilder, himself, took the part of the stage manager. In the Workshop Reading, Ivan Ferguson, well known for his recent portrayal of the male lead in the Playwright's production of 'Pygmalion,' will play this part.

Members of the Summer Theatre class who are in the play include Carol Ainger, Sandra Eisenberg, Ann Gover, Florence Konkol, Thomas Anthony and Robert Drew. Miss Marion Harding, assistant professor of music, is arranging a double quartet to sing in the choir. Several members of the faculty are also in the cast including Dr. Richard Redfern, Dr. Richard Rhodes and John G. Vett. The performance will be preceded by the recording of 'Our Town' by Aron Copeland as an overture. Carol Truax, Consultant in Fine Arts for State University of New York who is on the Summer Faculty, is directing.

Youth Institute

New Paltz, July 15—The third and final week of the New York Conference Methodist Youth Institute program begins this Sunday. This session, which is the Junior High Institute, will be at Oakwood School, Poughkeepsie, July 18-24. The dean is the Rev. Willett Porter and members of his staff from churches in the New Paltz, Kingston, Newburgh area include: the Rev. and Mrs. John Swords of Modena, the Rev. Joseph Bailey of Ganerstown, Mrs. Melvin Byrd of Middle Hope, Mrs. Robert Hollis of Plattkill, Mrs. Walter Roe, Jr., of Lloyd, Mrs. Stanley Jones of Highland, Mrs. Jack McEnroe of Highland, Mrs. Frederick Kahrs of New Paltz and Mrs. Willett Porter of New Paltz.

Lloyd Church School

New Paltz, July 15—Registrations are now being received for the inter-denominational Vacation Church School to be held July 26-August 6, in the Lloyd Church on the New Paltz-Highland road. The Methodist and Lutheran congregations are sponsoring the school. Advance registrations may be turned in to the Sunday school superintendents of either of the two churches or to Mr. Schellin or Mr. Porter. Insofar as possible, transportation will be arranged. For further information call New Paltz 2751 or Clintondale 7-2176.

Sunday School Picnic

New Paltz, July 15—The annual picnic of the New Paltz Methodist Sunday school will be held Saturday. Cars leave the church at 10 a. m. for Forsyth Park. Everyone welcome.

TWOSOME—Kapiolani Miller, 21, left, will represent Hawaii in the "Miss America" contest at Atlantic City, N. J., in September. Patricia Ann Kelly, chosen "Miss Baby Hawaii," will also attend the pageant.

Rabbi H. I. Bloom Is Hebrew College Alumni Trustee

RABBI HERBERT I. BLOOM

Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom of Temple Emanuel has been elected to serve as an association trustee of the Alumni Association of the Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion, America's only seminary of Reform Judaism.

Rabbi Jacob P. Rudin of Temple Beth El, Great Neck, has been elected president of the association. He served as assistant rabbi with Dr. Stephen Wise at the Free Synagogue in New York for two years, and in 1930 was elected to his present post.

Rabbi Bloom has been past chairman of Contemporary History Committee of the Central Conference of American Rabbis, and an executive member of the National Association of Jewish Chaplains in Penal Institutions. He is also past president of the New York State Association of Jewish Chaplains in Penal Institutions.

An alumnus of Columbia University and the Jewish Institute of Religion, Rabbi Bloom received his Ph.D. from Columbia University. He also studied at the Sorbonne, Paris, France. He is also chairman of the Kingston Zionist Youth Commission, and traveled extensively in Israel with his family last summer.

Donald Romme New Minister of Music At Trinity Lutheran

Donald Romme has been elected to the post of minister of music at Trinity Lutheran Church, Spring and Hone streets, beginning September 1, it was announced today by Elmer Rylance, chairman of the board of trustees of the church.

Mr. Romme is a graduate of Rutgers University and has received his master's degree in music and composition from Columbia University. For seven years he directed the Neighborhood Glee Club in Tenafly, N. J., the oldest and most distinguished male chorus in the state. Prior to his coming to Kingston in 1949 as minister of music at the Old Dutch Church, he held this position for five years at the West Side Presbyterian Church in his home town of Englewood, N. J.

Composer of Cantata

In 1952 he became the first director of The King's Chorus local mixed choral group. He has written numerous choral and instrumental works for The King's Chorus and the choirs of the Old Dutch Church, including a full cantata for Lent, which was published in 1953, and which has been sung in numerous churches throughout the country.

He has appeared as organ and piano soloist with the Rutgers University Glee Club in New Brunswick and on concert tour, with the John Harms Choral Society in New York, and has given many solo recitals locally and in the metropolitan area. A special service of his original compositions was presented in Kirkpatrick Chapel at Rutgers in the spring of 1953 by the combined choirs of Rutgers and the New Jersey College for Women. He has also directed four Kingston community presentations of Handel's The Messiah.

Succeeds Mrs. Burke

Mr. Romme will succeed Mrs. Willard Burke, choir master for the last eight years at Trinity Church. Mrs. Burke has previously succeeded Anthony Messina as director of music.

Miss Lucinda Merritt will continue on the music staff as assistant organist.

Vacation Program Tests Youngsters On Reading Skill

Library Hour at the Union Center School in the Town of Esopus is one community's attempt to provide supplementary education for its youngsters during the summer months.

Sponsored by the Union Center Civic Group, the library is conducted for children in grades three through six each Wednesday evening at the school house. Mothers in charge of the project are Mrs. Robert Elliott and Mrs. William Daum.

The library hour is divided into two periods for reading aloud and for silent reading. During the first fifteen minutes, the children gather around Mrs. Elliott to listen to and discuss a nature story. For the remainder of the time, the youngsters choose their own books from a large supply of short stories displayed on a table at the front of the school.

Three-Fold Aim
After reading a book, each pupil takes a test of eight to ten questions to determine his ability to find facts, interpret them, and to understand the meaning of new vocabulary in the story. Typed on cards, the test questions include multiple choice, completion and true-false statements.

After a child has satisfactorily completed a test, the title of the book he has read is recorded on his individual reading chart and he chooses another book. All children read at least one story during the evening; some may finish two or three.

The purpose of the tests is to encourage thoughtful reading, to increase understanding and use of new words, and to provide the opportunity for a feeling of accomplishment, the directors said. Only stories which can be completed within the hour are used for silent reading. Comic books are not included.

"We wondered how the boys and girls would react to the tests, but they like the idea," said Mrs. Elliott. "In fact, after the first library session, some of the children said they would like to come more often than once a week. If the youngsters are that interested in our summer reading project, we will increase the meetings."

18th Annual Picnic Set by Immaculate Conception Church

Plans for the 18th annual parish picnic to be held Sunday, July 25, were announced Thursday night at a meeting of the combined societies of the Immaculate Conception Church held in the school hall. The annual event will be held on the school grounds, Delaware avenue, from 3 to 11 p. m., rain or shine.

The committees selected for this year's picnic are Valentine Skop, general chairman; John Grabe, co-chairman; Mrs. Mary Janeczek, kitchen; Sam Janeczek, refreshments; Mrs. Mary Wojciechowski, refreshment tickets; Mrs. Pearl Reis, admission tickets.

A buffet supper will be served from 4 p. m. Refreshments will be on sale throughout the afternoon and evening, and there will be dancing. A booth will be featured with handmade and other types of articles.

Tickets are now on sale, and may be obtained from any member of the societies, at the rectory, 467 Delaware avenue, or at the gate the day of the picnic.

The Rev. Joseph Siczek, pastor of the church, as well as the committee chairmen, invite the public. The entire proceeds will go toward the new school fund.

Mrs. Richard DeKay Honored at Tea

Mrs. Richard DeKay was guest of honor at homecoming tea given Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Clarence Beecher, Jr. at the home of her mother, Mrs. Henry Millington, Jr., 99 Clinton avenue.

Mrs. DeKay and her husband, who was just discharged from the Air Force, returned this week from England, where Mr. DeKay was stationed for three years. She is the former Caroline Little of 73 Lafayette avenue.

Mrs. Harry Seitz presided at the tea table. There were 20 guests present to honor the occasion.

Coats Range From Casual to Formal

Raincoats with a real difference are the hallmark of rain fashions this fall. Designer Claire McCardell has used army drill lined in soft wool tweed (left) for a fitted, double-breasted coat with brass buttons. Hood is matching but separate. Pencil straight coat in natural poplin (center) is quilted from shoulder to hem. Matched scuffie bonnet ties with under chin bow. Full, flaring choir boy coat (right) is in striped and pleated iridescent cotton, can be worn in all weather. Collar is washable black velvet.

Cardigans Rate Clever Design

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor

New York — (NEA) — The sweater, as a light summer wrap, has gained fashion prominence equal to that of the stole.

Each year, there are the predictions that the stole, as good fashion, is finished. And each summer, women get them out again (or buy new ones) and find them indispensable. But for variety's sake, the sweater is a nice change.

This year, sweaters are cut like brief jackets, or short topers or waist-length cardigans. They come in light, bulky wools or soft, downy wools and in every conceivable color. There are loosely-cut sweaters meant to be worn over slim dresses. The sweaters that are snug at the waist were designed especially for wider skirts.

White waffle wool (left) is used for this flared jacket by Rosanna. Belt bows in gay colors and bead-centered bubbles are scattered over the surface.

White wool cardigan (right) is cloud-light, has twinkling rhinestone stars and pastel-colored glass chips of pink and blue with clear crystal as trim. This star motif is repeated in triangular detail on cuffs.

Grange News

Lake Katrine Grange
The picnic area of Hasbrouck Park has been reserved for the Lake Katrine Grange, Saturday afternoon and evening July 17.

Members, families are asked to bring a covered dish, silver. The entertainment committee has planned this event, and will furnish hot dogs and dessert. Supper will be served at 6:30.

A covered dish supper, was held at the hall last Monday night. At the meeting that followed considerable business was transacted, and the men who contributed their time and energy were complimented on the good job done of cleaning up the grounds around the hall, by the committee.

A plant sale was proposed by Mrs. Edward Sagendorf for the next meeting on August 9. Assisting will be Mrs. Harry Carle and Mrs. John McCord. Plants, roots, flowers, bulbs or any material of a like nature will be most gratefully received by the committee at that meeting. Unused flower pots, seeds are other contributions requested.

The date for the auction has been advanced to Saturday, September 25, and all are again reminded to look through attics, cellars for any articles of furniture unwanted, or other saleable articles.

About 50 per cent of the refined copper produced in an average year in the United States is drawn into wire.

French Prisoners All Skin, Bones, Ship Captain Says

Hanoi, Indochina, July 16 (AP) — "These men are from a second Buchenwald."

That was the bitter comment of Jacques Neyrod, French landing ship captain who on Wednesday brought to Haiphong the first 100 French Union prisoners released by the Vietnamese under the recent POW-exchange agreement.

The skin-and-bones men were released at Sam Son, on the Indochina seacoast 75 miles south of the seaport of Haiphong, in exchange for 100 Vietnamese prisoners.

"They are in terrible condition," Neyrod added. "They are starved and they have had no medical treatment for their wounds or ills."

Asked Medical Supplies
The prisoners said they many times asked for medical supplies while on a march and in prison camps but were told by their captors of the Communist-led Vietnamese: "There are none for you, because French planes bomb our supply convoys."

Many of the men said the Vietnamese had made crude attempts to indoctrinate them into communism. Legionnaires of German nationality were special targets for this.

In contrast to the emaciated men the landing ship brought back to Haiphong, the Vietnamese released at Sam Son by the French were in good condition and fair health.

Gave Grim Accounts
The French Union prisoners gave grim accounts of a 500-mile death march the Vietnamese put them through on starvation rations.

Said one legionnaire: "Those too sick to continue were left to die. Those (left) behind us were in much worse shape than we."

Telephone Friends Honor Burnett

Testimonial Held For Retiring Head Of Local District

C. Effingham Burnett, manager of the New York Telephone Company's Kingston office from 1937 to 1953 and the company's commercial supervisor of field operations for the Kingston telephone district the past year, will retire August 1 after 40 years of service.

Burnett, who is now on vacation leave, was honored by friends and company associates at a recent dinner at Wendover Farms in Poughkeepsie. Among the guests were C. D. Hubbard, the company's eastern division manager; W. E. Whitney, Kingston district manager; R. H. Barber, divisional commercial supervisor; J. A. Glick, division commercial engineer, and former Kingston district managers. The guest of honor received a golf bag, set of golf irons, and golf caddy cart.

Active in Community
One of the best-known telephone employees in the Kingston area, Burnett has taken an active part in community affairs. He is a member of the greater consistory of the Fair Street Reformed Church, having served as deacon, elder and senior elder. He is also a member of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce, the Central Businessmen's Association, member and past director of the Kingston Kiwanis Club, is a former director of both Ulster County Chapter, American Red Cross, and the Kingston Salvation Army Corps, and is a member of the Woodstock Country Club.

A native of Byrn Mawr, Pa., Burnett attended Haverford School, Nichols School in Buffalo and Princeton University.

Was General's Aide

He joined the telephone company in May 1914 as an inside agent. Three years later he entered military service with the 106th Field Artillery in Buffalo. He rose through the ranks to second lieutenant and served as an aide to General G. A. Wingate of the New York 27th Infantry Division. Upon his discharge from service in 1919 he rejoined the telephone company.

Burnett was named a unit manager at Buffalo and later served as a commercial representative until 1931 when he was named district manager of south Buffalo. He was transferred to Kingston as manager in 1937.

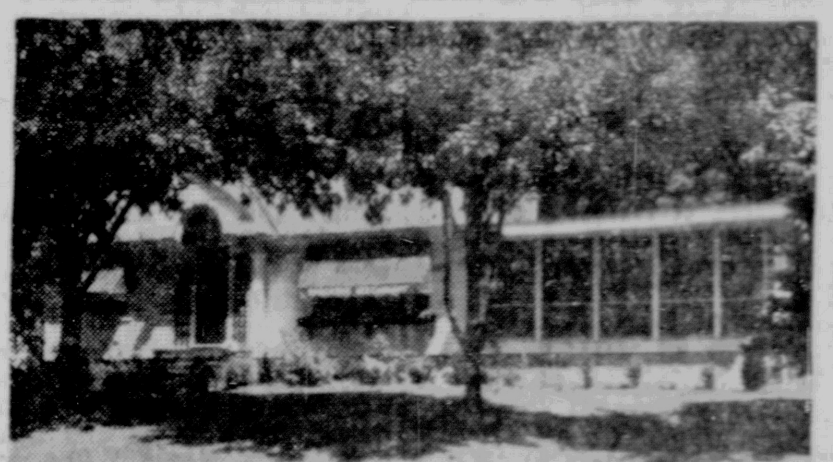

He and his wife, the former Miss Jessie S. Carter, a native of Buffalo, reside in Woodstock.

Next Week's Schedule
Tuesday—Jones vs. Panthers.
Wednesday—Nadlers vs. Merchants.
Thursday—Panthers vs. Doblers.

Jones Dairy completed a Yankee-like sweep of first half honors in the City Baseball League yesterday.

The 1953 champions reeled off their sixth consecutive victory behind Red Hinkley's two-hit pitching, 9 to 1, against Olive Merchants.

Secretary Jim Frelich promptly listed starting dates for the second half, while league officials took a dim view of the possibility of a championship playoff—the only real money maker for the top teams.

No-Hitter Spoiled
Hinkley, the sorrel-thatched former KHS football and baseball star, pitched no-hit, no-run ball for five innings before a double by Jake Crosswell and Junior Davis' single enabled the Merchants to escape the ignominy of a shutout in the bottom of the sixth. The game was then halted on account of darkness.

The Dairy men victimized Bob DuBois and Harry Personous for at least one run in every inning except the sixth. After single tallies in the first three rounds, they counted a trio in the fourth and three in the fifth.

Jones' impressive clutch victory left them three games ahead of Nadler Motors in the loss column. Whether the rest of the field can rally sufficient strength to narrow or overcome that gap in the second half remains to be seen.

Carlino on Rampage
Tom Carlino, the stocky shortstop who is the Joe D. of the club, knocked in four runs with a single and a triple to complete a rather impressive statistical first half. Red Gorsline also had two hits, including a double.

Hinkley walked only one batter and struck out seven. DuBois and Personous gave up eight walks between them and had only one out.

Leading 3-0, the Joneses got down to serious business in the fourth. Nippy Jones walked, moved to second on a balk and scored on Joe Modica's single. A passed ball and wild pitch sent Modica cross. Tom Carlino walked. Ronnie Mauro singled and Dulin skied deep to center for the third run.

The next three runs came in a hurry in the fifth. Bob Sheltner and Hinkley singled, Gatti walked loading the bases and Carlino tripled to left center clearing them.

Double Defeat by Braves Could Be End for Brooks

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

If the Brooklyn Dodgers fail to retain the National League championship, a review of the season may point to last night's double defeat by the Milwaukee Braves as a vital turning point.

The Brooks got slapped down 2-0 and 9-8 before a record Milwaukee turnout of 43,633.

It wasn't so much Milwaukee's victory in the opener behind Bob Buhl's 3-hit pitching. Rather it was the Braves' rousing 6-run rally with two out in the ninth to win the second game, that may have damaged the Dodgers' morale beyond repair.

The two losses, combined with New York's 4-0 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals, boosted the Giants' first place National League margin over the Dodgers to six and one-half games.

Cleveland's Indians retained their half game edge over New York in the tight American League race, defeating the Philadelphia Athletics 4-0 as the Yankees edged the Baltimore Orioles 3-1.

Chicago's third place White Sox fell four games off the pace as they before Washington 3-2. Detroit and Boston divided a day-night double-header, the Tigers winning the nightcap 4-2 after the Red Sox had taken the opener 3-1.

Redlegs Climb
Cincinnati's Redlegs climbed into a three-way tie for third place with Milwaukee and Philadelphia, sweeping both ends of a two-night twin bill from the Phillies 2-1 and 4-3 to spoil Terry Moore's managerial debut.

Chicago's Cubs knocked off the last place Pittsburgh Pirates twice in the afternoon 9-3 and 3-0 as Hank Sauer and Ernie Banks homered in each game.

The Dodgers were limited to only three singles in the opening game by Buhl, who won his first game of the season after seven defeats. But they appeared to have the second game in the bag as the Braves came up for their last turn at bat trailing 8-3. Then with two out and the bases full, the aroused Braves unloaded four straight hits to pull the game out.

Joe Adcock singled off reliever Jim Hughes to score two mates. That made it 8-5. Andy Pafko doubled off Erv Palica forcing two more to make it 8-7. Johnny Logan singled in the tying run and took second on the throw to the plate. Catcher Charlie White followed with a single over second to score Logan with the winning run. It was the first double defeat suffered by the Dodgers since Sept. 6, 1952.

Westrum Hits Homer
Pitcher Don Liddle and catcher Wes Westrum combined their talents to down the Cardinals. Liddle, the tiny southpaw, limited the Redlegs to five hits while Westrum walloped a home run and single to drive in three runs and inflict the fifth loss upon Harvey Haddix's 13-game winner.

Home runs by Andy Seminick and Jimmy Greengrass enabled Art Fowler to win a pitching duel from Philadelphia's Curt Simmons in the opener of their twin bill. Gus Bell's bases-loaded single in the eighth drove in the tying and winning runs in the nightcap. The twin loss marked the debut of Philadelphia's new manager, Terry Moore.

Early Wynn tamed the Athletics with four hits for his 11th victory as the Indians snapped a four-game losing streak. Al Rosen doubled in the first Cleveland run and Wynn participated in the three-run rally later with a run-scoring single off loser Alex Kellner.

The Yankees scored a run on each of catcher Less Moss' two passed balls and added another on Irv Noren's homer to run their victory string to 10 straight.

Veteran southpaw Johnny Schmitz pitched a five-hitter and outfielder Tom Umphlett drove in all three Washington runs with a single and triple in their 3-2 victory over the White Sox.

Outfielder Bill Tuttle's two-run double in the ninth snapped a 2-2 tie and gave the Tigers the nightcap victory over the Red Sox. Ted Williams' ninth homer helped Willard Nixon pick up his eighth victory in the afternoon game.

The record for 18 holes in PGA tournament play was established by Al Brosch in the Texas Open in 1951. He shot a 60 in the third round but was fourth at the finish. Four other pros also have had 60's.

Electrol came up with two big innings to trounce the Lions Club, 10-3, yesterday behind Mike Amato's six-hit pitching in the American Little League.

Trailing 3-2 at the end of three, the Electrol scored four runs in the fourth and matched that total in the fifth.

The Electrol victory tied them for first place with Sprague Electric at 2-0. Moose Lodge and Lions Club are now at 0-2.

Amato walked four and struck out six and closed shop on the Lions after yielding three runs in the first inning. Lefty Joe Clark was tagged for nine hits by the Electrol. He walked two and fanned seven.

Don Dittus pounded a double and single and Tom Gardner hit two solos for the winners. Walt Harder had a double. Clark was the top Lion batsman with a single and double.

Phillies Manager

Terry Moore, above, one-time St. Louis Cardinal outfielder, was appointed July 15 as manager of the Philadelphia Phillies baseball club replacing Steve O'Neill. (AP Wirephoto).

Terry Moore New Phillies Manager Replacing O'Neill

Cincinnati, July 15 (AP) —

Terry Moore, a "gentleman" player with the raucous St. Louis Cardinals of the old Gas House Gang days, today was named manager of the Philadelphia Phillies, replacing blunt-spoken Steve O'Neill.

Moore, whose previous managerial experience has been confined to two weeks of "sick leave" fill-in duty for Marty Marion with the Cards in 1931, took charge of the club for tonight's two-night doubleheader against the Redlegs here.

Roy Hamey, general manager of the Phils, said the shift—his first major move since assuming office—was made because the Phillies "just decided to change managers."

O'Neill Stunned

O'Neill, veteran manager of long standing and onetime catcher with the Detroit Tigers, said the announcement that he was through came as a "bolt from the blue."

Moore, never known for his loquaciousness as a player, had little to say, and with some reason. He pointed out he had seen the Phillies play only twice in the last two years.

Mike Spada and Charles Fuscardo permitted only two hits for Hiltebrants but at the end of four innings they were trailing 3-2. Then came the big explosion.

Three consecutive walks and successive singles by Frank Reid and Paul Turk touched off the rally. Turk, with a double and single, was the only player in the game with more than one hit.

The winners collected only three hits off Bill Bolce, who struck out 10, but nine walks and Miron misuses gave Hiltebrants their scoring opportunities.

Between them Spada (3) and Fuscardo (6) struck out nine and gave up six walks.

Trio Deadlocked In Women's Golf

Saranac Inn, July 16 (AP) —

The state women's amateur golf tournament headed into its final round today with two former champions and a mother of five in a three-way tie for the lead.

The second round of the 54-hole medal play event ended yesterday with Miss Barbara Bruning of White Plains, Mrs. Ruth Torgerson of Garden City and Mrs. Thomas Cantwell of Saranac Lake deadlocked at 164.

Miss Bruning, 22-year-old winner of the 1951 and 1952 tournaments, shot a four-over-par 78. Mrs. Torgerson, a five-time winner, carded her second 82, and Mrs. Cantwell, who had moved out in front Wednesday with a 79, fell off to 85.

The trio sported a three-stroke edge over its nearest challenger, Mrs. Max Berger of Buffalo, who toured the 6,303-yard course in 84. Mrs. Berger, the former Cookie Swift, is the defending champion.

Mrs. George Trainor of Rochester and Mrs. Shirley Smith of Binghamton shot 83s, giving Mrs. Trainor a two-day total of 170 and Mrs. Smith a two-round 172.

Report to the President

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, right, holds attention of President Eisenhower at the White House, July 15, as he reports on his Paris conference with British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and French Premier Mendes-France. Dulles reported a basis for allied agreement. (AP Wirephoto)

PORT EWEN NEWS

Town Briefs

Port Ewen, July 16—Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schwark have received word that their son, Clifford Schwark, RDSN of the USS Gatt, DD, arrived at Norfolk, Va., following a two month cruise to Europe. During his stay in Europe he made a tour of Rome, Seagram, Schwark will be stationed in Norfolk for three weeks after which he will leave for a four-week cruise to Florida as escort to an aircraft carrier. Mr. and Mrs. Newell Hargrave of Cincinnati, O., are visiting their son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Dudley W. Hargrave and family at their home on Broadway.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Studd of Corry, Pa., are visiting their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Short and family at their home on Stout avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Johnston of Daytona Beach, Fla., called on their nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Burr and family Monday, Mr. and Mrs. Johnston are former residents of Port Ewen.

The names of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Clark were omitted from those who attended the 40th wedding anniversary party of Mrs. Clark's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Vitarius Saturday at their home on Broadway.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hungerford called on Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Christian at their home in Clermont Wednesday. Mr. Christian, who recently underwent an operation at Hudson Hospital, has returned home and is reported to be improving. Mrs. Christian, who has been ill, is also improving.

The annual Village Fair sponsored by the Methodist official board, assisted by the Presville Society and the Altar Guild, will be held on Green street, Port Ewen, Tuesday. A cafeteria supper will be served in the church house starting at 5:30 p. m. During the evening a program by pupils of the Cassin School of Dancing will be presented. Various booths will be on display. The public is invited. Members and friends of the church are asked to contribute to the fancy article.

not agree that the Communists have a right to northern Viet Nam but it will not repudiate an armistice arrangement leaving them in control.

3. That Mendes-France does not assume the United States will automatically go to war in Indochina if the peace negotiations break down.

On this latter point Dulles is said to have told Mendes-France the United States stands by its conditions that any defense of the area in which this country joins must be shared by other nations having a vital interest there.

If the peace talks do fail, officials here think some kind of provisional coalition could quickly be formed for possible intervention. Officials were emphatic that the Eisenhower administration would not actually take steps to intervene, however, without first obtaining Congress' approval.

Grand View Man Loses His Brooks, Still Has Bridges

Grand View, July 16 (P)—Roland A. Wood bought a house here about two years ago but before he moved in a full-fledged stream began flowing right through the cellar.

A landscape architect diverted the stream south of the house, through the garden. Soon after that, Wood decided that little bridges, stepping stones and other aquatic embellishments would help his enjoyment of the tree-shaded brook. So, he had them built.

Life and the brook flowed gently onward, until one day, about six months ago, Wood discovered another spring erupting in the middle of his lawn.

Far from being dismayed, he called the architect back and had the second brook diverted, this time to the north of the house.

And so, the "house with two brooks" became a landmark and even a pride of the suburban

Then Came Changes

However, while Wood, an actor, was on a summer theatre tour, men working on a New York Thruway bridge nearby broke a water main Wednesday and the Spring Valley Water and Supply Co. rushed in repair apparatus.

While they were at it, they discovered a heretofore unknown leak. So they shut off the water for a few hours to repair it.

Just then astonished neighbors saw the two brooks on Wood's property disappear. Soon they were completely dry. All that was left were bridges, stepping stones and all these things that used to help Wood enjoy the brooks.

Water company officials said the streams "definitely came from our pipes," and even dared to estimate them as flowing at 18 to 20 gallons a minute. As if beauty were measurable!

Wood is expected home from his tour Saturday.

Awkerman Leaves For West Coast; Rutter Successor

T/Sgt. Charles C. Awkerman, former non-commissioned officer in charge of the Marine Corps Recruiting Station in Kingston, was transferred earlier this week to Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Before leaving for the west coast, the former local recruiter expressed his appreciation to local residents, thanking them for helping to make his tour of duty here a pleasant one.

Sgt. Lynne H. Rutter, recently of the Newburgh recruiting office, has taken over the post T/Sgt. Awkerman left. Sgt. Rutter is a Korean veteran from New Jersey. He served in Korea with the First Engineer Battalion and later with the Second Marine Air Wing at Cherry Point, N. C. He wears the National Defense ribbon, Korean ribbon, UN ribbon and Good Conduct ribbon.

The Marine Corps recruiting office is located in the Central Post Office Building, Broadway. Office hours are from 8:30 to 5 p. m. Monday through Friday and 8:30 to 12 o'clock noon Saturday.

Terpening License Plate Confiscated

The license plate of Kenneth Terpening, 19, of 608 Broadway, who was arrested at 10:08 p. m. yesterday by Officer Charles McCullough charged with driving with improper plate, was confiscated in city court this morning.

The case of Frank Mosher, 24, of 336 North Water street, Newburgh, who was arrested at 1 a. m. today by Officers Harold Bowers and Joseph Kivlan for allegedly operating a 1946 motorcycle with switched plates, was adjourned until tomorrow for imposition of sentence by Judge Raymond J. Mino.

The case of Jack Richman 26, of 234 Henry street, who was arrested July 7 by Officers Floyd Krom and Gilbert Gray for allegedly speeding on O'Neil street near Tremper avenue, was adjourned indefinitely.

Says Order Big One

New York, July 16 (P)—State Comptroller J. Raymond McGovern, asked last night whether he might try for the Republican nomination for governor, said: "It's a big order, and I doubt very much if it's in the realm of possibility." Democratic State Chairman Richard H. Balch, who appeared with McGovern on a television debate program, was asked whether he might be his party's gubernatorial candidate. "Mr. Balch is not a candidate for anything," he replied.
